Investigating Human Error Barry Strauch, 2017-03-16 In this book the author applies contemporary error theory to the needs of investigators and of anyone attempting to understand why someone made a critical error how that error led to an incident or accident and how to prevent such errors in the future Students and investigators of human error will gain an appreciation of the literature on error with numerous references to both scientific research and investigative reports in a wide variety of applications from airplane accidents to bus accidents to bonfire disasters Based on the author s extensive experience as an accident investigator and instructor of both aircraft accident investigation techniques and human factors psychology it reviews recent human factors literature summarizes major transportation accidents and shows how to investigate the types of errors that typically occur in high risk industries It presents a model of human error causation influenced largely by James Reason and Neville Moray and relates it to error investigations with step by step guidelines for data collection and analysis that investigators can readily apply as needed This second edition of Investigating Human Error has been brought up to date throughout with pertinent recent accidents and safety literature integrated It features new material on fatigue distraction eg mobile phone and texting and medication use It also now explores the topics of corporate culture safety culture and safety management systems Additionally the second edition considers the effects of the reduction in the number of major accidents on investigation quality the consequences of social changes on transportation safety such as drinking and driving cell phone use etc the contemporary role of accident investigation and the effects of the prosecution of those involved in accidents

Training and Simulation Shem Malmquist, Dennis A. Vincenzi, Shawn Pruchnicki, Katherine Lemos, 2025-09-16 Developing training and simulation is a complex business From understanding human performance design usability and the limitations of training types to considerations with virtual reality VR producing realistic scenarios and even helping accident investigations leaves the practitioner with almost an overwhelming challenge However they know that their goal is to cut out developing methods that can train and test the sharp end professional to be ready for any eventuality whether in the air a chemical plant or the operating room Through chapters written by leading experts this book aims to address the key questions and concerns when developing training and simulation in high risk industries This book identifies unexplored challenges and weaknesses in the aviation domain including ground based training and flight simulation compared to the real world of in flight complex aircraft operations aviation accidents and incidents airspace and air traffic control aeronautical communications air navigation aircraft automation and pilot certification and testing These concerns are not just relevant to aviation however This book pushes beyond aviation to include other fields including petrochemical and medicine that while on the surface are different include some of the same human and organizational challenges It integrates machine challenges with human factors science and includes a view of the corporate influences on training Safety is a consideration in all the challenges and current limitations in training and simulation and the book is written with the intention of improving both training and safety as industries deal with more and more complex advanced technology Underpinned by case studies and real life examples this book will give the reader a thorough overview of the limitations of current training methods but with a view to improving and developing better methods for future training scenarios Opportunities and solutions are presented for current or future research and the application and incorporation of these in day day operations Training and Simulation Processes Challenges and Solutions will appeal to practitioners of human factors training pilots and ground operators engineers involved in systems design safety specialists test evaluators and accident investigators across multiple domains
