André Bazin's Film Theory Angela Dalle Vacche,2020 Through metaphors and allusions to art science and religion André Bazin's writings on the cinema explore a simple yet profound question what is a human For the famous French film critic a human is simultaneously a rational animal and an irrational being Bazin's idea of the cinema is a mind machine where the ethical implications have priority over aesthetic issues And in its ability to function as an art form for the masses cinema is the only medium that can address an audience at the individual and community levels simultaneously the audience sees the same film but each individual relates to the narrative in a different way In principle cinema can unsettle our routines in productive ways and expand our sense of belonging to a much larger picture By arguing that this dissident Catholic's worldview is anti anthropocentric Angela Dalle Vacche concludes that André Bazin's idea of the cinema recapitulates the histories of biological evolution and modern technology inside our consciousness Through the projection of recorded traces of the world onto a brain like screen the cinema can open viewers up to self interrogation and empathy towards Otherness Bazin was neither a spiritualist nor an animist or a pantheist yet his film theory leads also to ideas of a more cosmological persuasion through editing and camera movement cinema explores our belonging to a vast universe that extends from the microbes of the microscope to the stars of the telescope Such ideas of connectedness coupled with Bazin's well known emphasis of realism form the foundation for his film theory's embrace of Italian neorealism Choosing to avoid a quantitative naturalism based on accumulation of details Bazin's theory instead promotes the kind of cinema that celebrates perceptual displacement the objectification of human behavior and one's own critical self awareness

Classic French Noir Deborah Walker-Morrison, 2018-10-18 French film noir has long been seen as a phenomenon distinct from its Hollywood counterpart This book an innovative departure from conventional noir scholarship now adopts a biocultural approach to exploring the French genre through the years 1941-1959 Chapters reveal noir as a product of the social and cultural factors at play in occupied liberated and post-war France marked by malaise at military defeat Nazi collaboration and the impact of industrialisation Furthermore the book uncovers the evolutionary mechanisms of sexuality and reproduction beneath the national context that drive gendered behaviour on screen During this period for example the emerging urgent demand for population growth coupled with the severe shortage of eligible males rendered the mating game particularly perilous for traditional women beginning to enter the workplace This explains the cynical yet seductive behaviour of the femme fatale Deborah Walker Morrison focuses on the dangerous often deadly desires of an array of male and female character types moving past the celebrated fatal femme to tragic heroines psychopathic narcissists fatal hommes and gangster anti heroes The book re examines productions by directors such as Henri Georges Clouzot Jacques Becker and Jules Dassin and pulls together strands of sociological biological psychological and evolutionary science to create an illuminating study of the intense human passions underlying the cut throat world of noir
