Using Advanced Search Techniques

When using the full-text search feature in the online user guide, the following techniques can help you narrow your searches for more precise results.

You can search for words using words and expressions. For example, searching for the single word cut will find all topics containing the terms "cut", "cuts", "cutting", and "cutting" and so on.

Searching for a phrase in quotation marks ("toolholder") will find all topics that contain the literal phrase "toolholder". Without the quotation marks, the query is equivalent to specifying tool AND holder, which will find topics containing both of the individual words, instead of the phrase.

The Boolean operators AND, OR, NOT, and NEAR (within eight words) enable you to precisely define your search by creating a relationship between search terms. If no operator is specified, AND is used. For example, the query toolholder graphics is equivalent to searching for all topics containing the terms tool AND holder AND graphic.

Nested expressions allow you to create complex searches for information. For example, the search for milling AND (cycle OR operation) NEAR surface finds topics containing the word "milling" along with the words "cycle" and "surface" close together, or containing "milling" along with the words "operation".
