

Chapter 9: Elections and Political Participation

How do American Elections work?

- Representative democracy: americans do not make policy choices themselves, but they vote for individuals who make these choices on their behalf

Functions of elections

- select representatives, give citizens the ability to influence the direction of government policy, and provide citizens with the opportunity to reward and punish officeholders seeking reelection

Selecting Representatives

- Incumbents: a politician running for reelection to the office he or she currently holds
- Indirect effect on government policy

Shaping Policy

- Elections also involve a choice between candidates policy platforms

Promoting Accountability

- Hold incumbents accountable
- When citizens choose between voting for an incumbent or a challenger they make a retrospective evaluation
 - ◆ Consider the incumbents performance over his or her previous terms in office
- Significant because they make incumbents responsive to their constituents' demands

Two stages of elections

- If the prospective candidates want to run on behalf of a political party, they must win the party's nomination in a primary election
 - ◆ A ballot vote in which citizens select a party's nominee for the general election
- If the would be candidates want to run as independents, they need to gather signatures on a petition to secure a spot on the ballot
- Different states hold either open primaries, semi closed primaries, or closed primaries and state law sets the timing of these elections
