Weiss,Allen Hicken,Paul D. Hutchcroft,2022-08-11 Politicians in Southeast Asia as in many other regions win elections by distributing cash goods jobs projects and other benefits to supporters but the ways in which they do this vary tremendously both across and within countries Mobilizing for Elections presents a new framework for analyzing variation in patronage democracies focusing on distinct forms of patronage and different networks through which it is distributed The book draws on an extensive multi country multi year research effort involving interactions with hundreds of politicians and vote brokers as well as surveys of voters and political campaigners across the region Chapters explore how local machines in the Philippines ad hoc election teams in Indonesia and political parties in Malaysia pursue distinctive clusters of strategies of patronage distribution what the authors term electoral mobilization regimes In doing so the book shows how and why patronage politics varies and how it works on the ground      Sabah from the Ground Bridget Welsh,Vilashini Somiah,Benjamin Y H Loh,2021-05-03 Sabah s 2020 election was Malaysia s pandemic election While attention has centred on the impact the election had on the increase of COVID 19 this collection brings together scholars journalists and social scientists who were on the ground on Sabah to analyse what happened why and the broader implications of the outcome for Sabah and Malaysian politics The book is the first in depth study of a Sabah election It is multidisciplinary with authors from different perspectives and the majority of the authors are from Sabah Traditional explanations prioritize the federal state relationship in shaping Sabah politics This collection challenges this paradigm suggesting that politics in Sabah should be better understood as a reflection of conditions within Sabah as Sabahans struggle to navigate and survive on Malaysia's periphery

Electoral Dynamics in Sarawak Meredith Leigh Weiss, Arnold Puyok, 2017 Based upon observation of the 2016 Sarawak

state elections at a time of political turmoil for the ruling Barisan Nasional coalition Electoral Dynamics in Sarawak offers four ethnographic accounts of grassroots electoral politics in diverse constituencies of Sarawak Covering Ba Kelalan the rural stronghold of Sarawak Parti Keadilan Rakyat People's Justice Party leader Baru Bian Tupon the urban Malay majority stronghold of the PBB Stakan a mixed constituency in which postal votes proved decisive and Repok and Meradong rural Chinese majority constituencies caught between the Sarawak United People's Party and the Democratic Action Party this volume exposes the diversity and complexity of Sarawak's electoral geography Central to the analyses in this volume are not only the role of ethnicity and the urban rural divide but also the longer term impact of the politics of developmentalism the personality politics surrounding Chief Minister Adenan Satem and the emerging force of Sarawakian states rights enshrined in the Sarawak for Sarawakians S4S social movement Part of a comparative study of electoral dynamics across Southeast Asia Electoral Dynamics in Sarawak seeks both to analyse the wider lessons to be learned from the 2016 Sarawak state elections as well as to deepen our knowledge and understanding of a state which is likely to play an especially important role in the political future of Malaysia Back cover

Coalitions in Collision Jayaratnam Saravanamuttu, Hock Guan Lee, Mohamed Nawab, Mohamed Osman, Mohamed Nawab, 2015 After the watershed 2008 election when the ruling Barisan Nasional BN coalition lost its customary two thirds control of parliamentary seats there was the not unreasonable expectation that BN would slip even further in the much anticipated Thirteenth General Election of 2013 which is the subject of this book In the event the BN lost the popular vote to the Pakatan Rakyat PR but still retained the reins of government In this book prominent Malaysian specialists and experts will provide the reader with fresh insights into the evolving character of electoral politics by delving into its failing model of consociationalism the extent of malapportionment in the electoral system and its effects on outcomes how new politics continue to meet the resistance of old modes of political behaviour the path dependence analysis of twin coalition politics the significance of the FELDA vote bank the issues animating electoral politics in Sabah Sarawak Terengganu and Johor why the PR continues to command urban support the role of the biased mainstream media and details of the campaign strategies of both coalitions In this new study of Malaysia's electoral politics it is evident that the ruling coalition has lost its first mover advantage and is only able to hold on to power due to the first past the post FPTP single member plurality electoral system This sort of system has given rise in the parlance of electoral studies to manufactured majorities that is electoral outcomes that confer a majority of seats simple or large to a single party or a coalition of parties without commanding a majority of the popular vote Malaysia's FPTP system imbued as it is with a generous proportion of rural weightage continues to favour the BN oftentimes generating large manufactured parliamentary majorities While some may argue that electoral politics have reached an impasse after two general elections Malaysia's twin coalition system seems to have gained some traction and thanks to its federalism with the PR having considerable control of state governments in the Malay heartland and of the more urbanized states of Selangor and Penang The 13th Malaysia
