Study Guide

Chapter 1: What is Economics

Definition of Economics:

- The study/science of all our social behavior regarding
  - Because of the limited resources available for society, we have to make choices
  - Choices are not made over scarce goods/resources we have, but over choices about what resources are put to or a service that others provide or others
- Economics is the social science that studies the behavior of individuals, businesses, governments, and societies as they interact in a society allocating scarce resources amongst
  - Many economists define the field as the behavior and choices made by any group of individuals, business and gov, and the influence of government on individual behavior of an economy and on the aggregate economy
  - There is also a focus on the study of the performance of national/global economies, in resources large scale aggregated economic units

Two Big Economic Questions:

- What is the best way to allocate what? How, and for whom goods and services produced?
  - What goods and services are the important production and production for society? What work?
  - How? goods and services are produced using production resources that are limited in the factors of production and labor capital and entrepreneurship
    - Land everything that constitutes the earth that is not independent production services
    - Labor The work done and effort that people devote to producing goods and services. Labor turns inputs
    - Capital The man-made equipment constituting the production technology produced and used
      - Human capital a combination of capital it is the knowledge and skill that people devote to education on the job training, on-the-job experience that goes into the production
    - Entrepreneurship The business owner or entrepreneur who organizes the land, labor, and capital
  - For whom? who gets the goods and services produced? the business that produces, final consumer, labor, other inputs, capital, entrepreneur, government, etc. or all of them
- What is the best way to allocate what? How, and for whom goods and services produced?
  - Efficiency Choices that are made by individuals that is better than any other for them
  - Social Justice Choices that are best for society as a whole
    - Efficiency When all the available resources are used to produce goods and services possible given the technology and the quantities that are used beneficial to society (allocative efficiency)
    - Equity complete fairness and equality independent of people have different opinions
