International Migrants in Johannesburg's Informal Economy Peberdy, Sally, 2016-10-17 This report provides a rich view of the activities of migrant entrepreneurs in the informal economy of Johannesburg It is hoped that the information will facilitate understanding of the informal sector and its potential and not just in the context of migrant entrepreneurs The informal economy plays a significant role in the entrepreneurial landscape of the City of Johannesburg and is patronized by most of the city's residents The research presented here challenges commonly held opinions about migrant entrepreneurs in the City of Johannesburg and shows that they do not dominate the informal economy which remains largely in the hands of South Africans In late 2013 the City through Operation Clean Sweep removed up to 8 000 traders from the city's streets As this and recent xenophobic attacks demonstrate Johannesburg can be a hostile place in which to operate a business as an informal economy migrant entrepreneur Instead of trying to sweep the streets clean of these small businesses government at national provincial and city levels should develop policies to grow the SMME economy develop township economies and manage the informal economy and street trading They need to incorporate the businesses owned by migrant entrepreneurs rather than exclude and demonize them These businesses make an invaluable contribution to Johannesburg's economy despite operating in a non enabling political and policy environment Portfolio Municipalities South Africa 2008, 2008

Muriaas, 2017-10-12 Can autocrats establish representative subnational governments And which strategies of manipulation are available if they would like to reduce the uncertainty caused by introducing political decentralisation In the wake of local government reforms several states across the world have introduced legislation that provides for subnational elections This does not mean that representative subnational governments in these countries are all of a certain standard Political decentralisation should not be confused with democratisation as the process is likely to be manipulated in ways that do not produce meaningful avenues for political participation and contestation locally Using examples from Africa Lovise Aalen and Ragnhild L Muriaas propose five requirements for representative subnational governments and four strategies that national governments might use to manipulate the outcome of political decentralisation The case studies of Ethiopia Malawi South Africa and Uganda illustrate why autocrats sometimes are more open to competition at the subnational level than democrats Manipulating Political Decentralisation provides a new conceptual tool to assess representative subnational governments quality aiding us in building theories on the consequences of political decentralisation on democratisation Country
