

DBQ: Effects of the Civil War

Document-Based Question Format

Directions: The following question is based on the accompanying Documents. (The documents have been edited for the purpose of this exercise.) This question is designed to test your ability to work with and understand historical documents.

Write a response that:

1. A relevant thesis that specifically addresses the question.
2. 5 paragraphs: An introduction paragraph, 3 Body paragraphs, and a Conclusion Paragraph.
3. Argumentative style paragraphs with proper citations.
4. Outside information on the Civil War to provide context for the argument.

Historical Context:

The Civil War was the bloodiest war to take place on American soil and took more American lives than any other war since the United States began. The war, however, did not only affect those who fought in it. All of those living in America felt the sting of this conflict. This DBQ essay explores the various ways that women, men, African-Americans (free and slave), Yankees, and Confederates were affected by the war. How did the Civil War affect the millions living within United States' borders?

Essay Question:

How did the Civil War affect the various groups of people living in American society?

Kathy Swan, Mark Hofer, 2013-11-12 And Action Directing Documentaries in the Social Studies Classroom provides social studies educators with the background knowledge conceptual understanding and tools necessary to design and facilitate classroom documentary projects in the K 12 social studies classroom The authors have spent more than ten years in classrooms working collaboratively with teachers to design and research classroom documentary projects Recognizing the challenges of this kind of work the authors partnered with filmmakers historians educational technologists and classroom teachers with experience in leading documentary projects to refine a production process that more closely mirrors the work of filmmakers With this book the authors draw on all of these experiences to assist social studies educators to efficiently and effectively structure and assess documentary projects Educators will learn ways to transition student learning away from digital encyclopedia entries toward a more authentic documentary approach that focuses on disciplined inquiry and the use of evidenced based arguments

Teaching for Historical Literacy Matthew

T. Downey, Kelly A. Long, 2015-07-30 Teaching for Historical Literacy combines the elements of historical literacy into a coherent instructional framework for teachers. It identifies the role of historical literacy, analyzes its importance in the evolving educational landscape, and details the action steps necessary for teachers to implement its principles throughout a unit. These steps are drawn from the reflections of real teachers grounded in educational research and consistent with the Common Core State Standards. The instructional arc formed by authors Matthew T. Downey and Kelly A. Long takes teachers from start to finish, from managing the prior learning of students to developing their metacognition and creating synthesis at the end of a unit of study. It includes introducing topics by creating a conceptual overview, helping students collect and analyze evidence, and engaging students in multiple kinds of learning, including factual, procedural, conceptual, and metacognitive. This book is a must-have resource for teachers and students of teaching interested in improving their instructional skills, building historical literacy, and being at the forefront of the evolving field of history education.

Differentiation in Practice: A Resource Guide for Differentiating Curriculum, Grades 9-12 Carol Ann Tomlinson, Cindy A. Strickland, 2005-08-15 Join Carol Ann Tomlinson and Cindy A. Strickland in the continuing exploration of how real teachers incorporate differentiation principles and strategies throughout an entire instructional unit. Focusing on the high school grades but applicable at all levels, Differentiation in Practice: Grades 9-12 will teach anyone interested in designing and implementing differentiated curriculum how to do so or how to do so more effectively. Inside you'll find annotated lesson plans for differentiated units in English, mathematics, history, science, art, and world languages. Samples of differentiated product assignments, learning contracts, rubrics, and homework handouts. An overview of the non-negotiables in differentiated classrooms and guidelines for using the book as a learning tool. An extended glossary and recommended readings for further exploration of key ideas and strategies. Each unit highlights underlying standards, delineates learning goals, and takes you step by step through the instructional process. Unit developers provide running commentary on their use of flexible grouping and pacing, tiered assignments, and assessments, and numerous other strategies. The models and insight presented will inform your own differentiation efforts and help you meet the challenge of mixed-ability classrooms with academically responsive curriculum appropriate for all learners.
