Age-Friendly Community Movement Philip B. Stafford,2018-10-19 The age friendly community movement is a global phenomenon currently growing with the support of the WHO and multiple international and national organizations in the field of aging Drawing on an extensive collection of international case studies this volume provides an introduction to the movement The contributors both researchers and practitioners touch on a number of current tensions and issues in the movement and offer a wide ranging set of recommendations for advancing age friendly community development The book concludes with a call for a radical transformation of a medical and lifestyle model of aging into a relational model of health and social individual wellbeing      Movement Skill Development Jack Keogh,David A. are effectively vanishing from the American higher education pipeline Even as the number of Latinas attending college has actually increased steadily over the last few decades the proportional representation of Latino males continues to slide relative to their Latina female counterparts The question of why Latino males are losing ground in accessing higher education relative to their peers is an important and complex one and it lies at the heart of this book There are several broad themes highlighted catalogued along with the four dimensions of policy theory research and practice The contributors to this book present new research on factors that inhibit or promote Latino success in both four year institutions and community colleges in order to inform both policy and practice They explore the social cultural factors peer dynamics and labor force demands that may be perpetuating the growing gender gap and consider what lessons can be learned from research on the success of Latinas This book also closely examines key practices that enable first generation Latino male undergraduates to succeed which may seem counterintuitive to institutional expectations and preconceived notions of student behavior Using narrative data the book also explores the role of family in persistence outlines how Latino men conceptualize fulfilling expectations negotiate the emasculation of the educational process and how they confront racialization in the pursuit of a higher education uncovers attitudes to help seeking that are detrimental to their success and analyzes how those who succeed and progress in college apply their social capital whether aspirational navigational social linguistic familial or resistant While uncovering the lack of awareness at all levels of our colleges and universities about the depth and severity of the challenges facing Latino males this book provides the foundation for rethinking policy challenges leaders to institutionalize male focused programs and services and presents data to inform needed changes in practice for outreach and retention
