The Concise Oxford Companion to African American Literature William L. Andrews, Frances Smith Foster, Trudier Harris, 2001-02-15 A breathtaking achievement this Concise Companion is a suitable crown to the astonishing production in African American literature and criticism that has swept over American literary studies in the last two decades It offers an enormous range of writers from Sojourner Truth to Frederick Douglass from Zora Neale Hurston to Ralph Ellison and from Toni Morrison to August Wilson It contains entries on major works including synopses of novels such as Harriet Jacobs's Incidents in the Life of a Slave Girl Richard Wright's Native Son and Lorraine Hansberry's A Raisin in the Sun It also incorporates information on literary characters such as Bigger Thomas Coffin Ed Johnson Kunta Kinte Sula Peace as well as on character types such as Aunt Jemima Brer Rabbit John Henry Stackolee and the trickster Icons of black culture are addressed including vivid details about the lives of Muhammad Ali John Coltrane Marcus Garvey Jackie Robinson John Brown and Harriet Tubman Here too are general articles on poetry fiction and drama on autobiography slave narratives Sunday School literature and oratory as well as on a wide spectrum of related topics Compact yet thorough this handy volume gathers works from a vast array of sources from the black periodical press to women's clubs making it one of the most substantial guides available on the growing exciting world of African American literature The Lever of Riches Joel Mokyr, 1992-04-09 In a world of supercomputers genetic engineering and fiber optics technological creativity is ever more the key to economic success But why are some nations more creative than others and why do some highly innovative societies such as ancient China or Britain in the industrial revolution pass into stagnation Beginning with a fascinating concise history of technological progress Mokyr sets the background for his analysis by tracing the major inventions and innovations that have transformed society since ancient Greece and Rome What emerges from this survey is often surprising the classical world for instance was largely barren of new technology the relatively backward society of medieval Europe bristled with inventions and the period between the Reformation and the Industrial Revolution was one of slow and unspectacular progress in technology despite the tumultuous developments associated with the Voyages of Discovery and the Scientific Revolution What were the causes of technological creativity Mokyr distinguishes between the relationship of inventors and their physical environment which determined their willingness to challenge nature and the social environment which determined the openness to new ideas He discusses a long list of such factors showing how they interact to help or hinder a nation's creativity and then illustrates them by a number of detailed comparative studies examining the differences between Europe and China between classical antiquity and medieval Europe and between Britain and the rest of Europe during the industrial revolution He examines such aspects as the role of the state the Chinese gave up a millennium wide lead in shipping to the Europeans for example when an Emperor banned large ocean going vessels the impact of science as well as religion politics and even nutrition He questions the importance of such commonly cited factors as the spill over benefits of war the abundance of natural resources life expectancy and labor costs Today an ever greater number of industrial economies are competing in the global market locked in a struggle that revolves around technological ingenuity The Lever of Riches with its keen analysis derived from a sweeping survey of creativity throughout history offers telling insights into the question of how Western economies can maintain and developing nations can unlock their creative potential

Adolescent Mothers and Child Abuse and Neglect Malik R. Bey, 1996-12 British Children's Writers Since 1960

Caroline Collins Hunt, 1996 Essays on authors whose works range from the traditional or reactionary to the experimental During this time the problem novel gained ground Competition from other media such as the television influenced the juvenile book market During this period a publishers group was formed to give serious thought to the direction in which juvenile books should go Global Conversations in Literacy Research Peggy Albers, 2017-11-22 In this volume renowned literacy and language education scholars who have shaped policy and practice aimed toward social justice and equity address current intellectual and practical issues in the teaching of literacy in classrooms and educational environments across diverse and international settings Drawn from talks that were presented live and hosted by Global Conversations in Literacy Research GCLR an online open access critical literacy project this book provides access in edited written form to these scholars critically and historically situated talks Bringing together talks on diverse topics including digital and media literacy video games critical literacy and ESOL Albers preserves the scholars critical discourses to engage readers in the conversation Offering a broad and expansive understanding of what literacy has to offer for scholars teachers and students this book demonstrates the importance of positioning literacy as a social practice and brings critical literacy to a global audience Reading Time Catherine Compton-Lilly, 2012-03-02 While teachers cannot travel back in time to visit their students at earlier ages they can draw on the rich sets of experiences and knowledge that students bring to classrooms In her latest book Catherine Compton Lilly examines the literacy practices and school trajectories of eight middle school students and their families Through a unique longitudinal lens the author has studied these same students from first grade we see how students from a low income inner city community grow and develop academically revealing critical insights for teachers about literacy development identity construction and school achievement The Michael Hartman Dillow and Anna Margareth Holshouser Family: Jacob, Sr. (1757-1826) (2 v.), 1999 Chiefly a record of some of the descendants of Michael Hartman Dillow Michael was born ca 1755 in Pennsylvania He married Anna Margareth Holshouser ca 1774 probably in North Carolina He died ca 1805 in Salisbury North Carolina They were the parents of seven known children

Reading Students' Lives Catherine Compton-Lilly, 2016-08-12 Reading Students Lives documents literacy practices across time as children move through school with a focus on issues of schooling identity construction and how students and their parents make sense of students lives across time The final book in a series of four that track a group of low income African American students and their parents across a decade it follows the same children into high school bringing to the forefront issues and insights that are invisible in shorter term projects This is a free standing volume that breaks new ground both theoretically and methodologically and has important implications for children schools and educational research Its significant contributions include the unique longitudinal nature of the study the lens it casts on family literacy practices during high school years the close and situated look at the experiences of children from communities that have been historically underserved by schools and the factors that all too often cause many of these children to move further and further away from school eventually dropping out or failing to graduate Tribe, 1976 Best Literature by and about Blacks Phillip M.
