Dogfish Dissection Orientation Of Body Planes:

Biology of Sharks and Their Relatives Jeffrey C. Carrier, John A. Musick, Michael R. Heithaus, 2012-04-09 Virtually every area of research associated with sharks and their relatives has been strongly impacted by the revolutionary growth in technology. The questions we can now ask are very different than those reported even two decades ago. Modern immunological and genetic techniques, satellite telemetry and archival tagging, modern phylogenetic analysis. Fins into Limbs Brian K. Hall, 2008-09-15 Long ago fish fins evolved into the limbs of land vertebrates and tetrapods. During this transition some elements of the fin were carried over while new features developed. Lizard limbs, bird wings and human arms and legs are therefore all evolutionary modifications of the original tetrapod limb. A comprehensive look at the current state of research on fin and limb evolution and development, this volume addresses a wide range of subjects including growth, structure, maintenance, function and regeneration. Divided into sections on evolution, development and transformations, the book begins with a historical introduction to the study of fins and limbs and goes on to consider the evolution of limbs into wings as well as adaptations associated with specialized modes of life such as digging and burrowing. Fins into Limbs also discusses occasions when evolution appears to have been reversed in whales, for example, whose front limbs became flippers when they reverted to the water, as well as situations in which limbs are lost such as in snakes. With contributions from world renowned researchers, Fins into Limbs will be a font for further investigations in the changing field of evolutionary developmental biology. Journal of Experimental Biology, 2000 Labyrinth and Equilibrium Samuel Steen Maxwell, 1923 Physiological Archives University of Chicago. Gilbert, 1973-01-01 Two new laboratory manuals, Pictorial Anatomy of the Dogfish and Pictorial Anatomy of the Necturus, have just been added to the highly acclaimed series of dissection guides by Stephen G. Gilbert. The new manuals contain all the features of those already published and widely adopted as textbooks throughout the English speaking world. Realistic illustrations drawn directly from dissections. Integrated text and self explanatory plates so that no other textbook is required. Complete dissection instructions. Anatomical relationships fully described and illustrated. Structures indicated by numbers. Arteries, veins and nerves shown in red, blue and yellow respectively for easy identification. Numerous lateral views showing relationships not seen in the standard ventral dissection.

Each subject illustrated by a small marginal diagram so that the student never has to turn another page to see an illustration of the subject under discussion A Guide for the Dissection of the Dogfish (Squalus Acanthias) Lawrence E. Griffin, 2015-06-15

Excerpt from A Guide for the Dissection of the Dogfish Squalus Acanthias The spindle shaped body tapers from near the middle toward both head and tail the head is flattened on both the dorsal and ventral sides while the remainder of the body is nearly round with a lateral compression which is not pronounced except in the caudal portion The general color of the back and sides is gray darkest above where the skin is spotted with scattered small round light spots The color of the upper parts shades into the yellow white of the ventral surface Can head trunk and tail regions be distinguished If so what characters determine the extent of each A little above the middle of the side of the body is the lateral line distinguished partly by color partly by being slightly elevated which extends from the back of the head to the tail Cut through the skin across the lateral line at several points along the body and notice the canal which lies in the dermis under the lateral line This is the lateral line canal which opens to the surface by numerous pores too minute to be seen and contains a series of special sense organs along its dorsal and inner surfaces Near the base of the caudal fin the lateral line canal passes into a groove which continues the lateral line to within a short distance of the edge of the fin The lateral line canal in its development begins as a groove along the side of the body which becomes closed by the fusion of its edge except in this terminal portion The open groove does not appear in Eugaleus In the midline of the body are two triangular dorsal fins each attached to the body for about half its length The basal portion of each is thick and muscular and contains supporting cartilages embedded in the muscles The remainder of the fin is flexible and semi transparent horny finrays being faintly visible between the layers of skin In front of each fin is a strong spine which seems to serve both as a cutwater and a weapon of defense Eugaleus has no spines The broad paired pectoral fins having the general characteristics of the dorsals spring from the ventral edges of the body just back of the head A hard bar of cartilage connecting the bases of the pectoral fins can be felt through the skin of the ventral surface of the body This is the ventral part of the pectoral girdle Farther back and also on the ventral surface are the paired pelvic fins The pelvic girdle can be felt through the skin between the bases of these fins If the specimen is a male it will have a fingerlike process projecting backward from the base and along the inner side of each pelvic fin These organs which attain a considerable size in adults are modified portions of the pelvic fin used as copulatory organs They are named variously claspers myxopterygia or pterygopodia A groove runs along the dorsal side of the clasper from the tip to near the base where it opens into a long sac glandula pterygopodia extending some distance in front of the pelvic fins just within the skin of the ventral surface By feeling a cartilaginous axis of the clasper can be discovered which extends to the tip of the organ On the dorsal surface and near the end of the clasper is a sharp grooved spine on the outer side and a strongly recurved hook on the inner side both almost hidden by a flap projecting from the inner edge of the groove This flap is stiffened by a series of small cartilages similar to the radial cartilages in the bases of the fins About the Publisher
