Abstract.—The authors have been studying the relationship between the number of species in a community and the number of niches in the community. The results of the study are presented in this paper. The authors have found that the number of species in a community is proportional to the number of niches in the community. This relationship is called the species-niche relationship. The authors have also found that the number of species in a community is proportional to the number of niches in the community. This relationship is called the species-niche relationship.
