ARE YOU AN INTERNET ADDICT?

Experts say that millions of people around the world are one click away from "online" addiction.

The Internet is where we spend more and more of our time. But for a growing number of people, it's an out-of-control habit that interferes with normal living and causes severe stress on family, friends, loved ones and work.

Kimberly Young, clinical director of the Centre for Internet Addiction Recovery and author of the book Caught in the Net, says that about 5% to 10% of Americans – 15 to 30 million people – may suffer from Internet addiction and the problem may be even greater in countries like China, Korea and Taiwan. It's a global problem.

Coleen Moore, coordinator of resource development at the Illinois Institute for Addiction Recovery, says she has clients from college age to early adulthood who spend 14 to 18 hours a day online. But Young notes that it's not just how long people spend using a computer; it's what they're doing online.

To help people with their diagnosis, Young developed a test that uses a 20-question survey to measure levels of Internet addiction. "There are no real drugs for this yet," she says. "It's not about medication, it's more about therapy." The estimated recovery time varies. At the Illinois Institute for Addiction Recovery, some patients need 30 to 90 days of in-patient treatment, followed by a continuing care program. But Internet addiction recovery, like any other addiction, requires lifelong treatment, experts say.

Online gaming is the form of Internet addiction most rapidly growing among young people. "Initially we primarily had people addicted to surfing the Web, chat rooms, virtual communities and things like that. Now we are looking more to gaming," Moore says. "Gaming is certainly one of the things that could get people addicted to the Internet, because it has such compelling content. But I don't think games are any more likely to cause Internet addiction than any of the other forms of entertainment".

The Results Fieldbook Mike Schmoker, 2001-09-15 Looks at educational practices that can make an immediate and profound difference in student learning

The Results Fieldbook Michael J. Schmoker, 2001 What is the single most important event of the school year that affects school improvement How do you measure school improvement How can simple tools already at your fingertips work more effectively to improve student achievement in reading math and more The Results Fieldbook answers these questions and describes in abundant practical detail how five school systems overcame obstacles and achieved exceptional results for all their students These schools focused on the proven core concepts that Mike Schmoker described in both editions of his first ASCD book Results The Key to Continuous School Improvement Supplementing the five case studies brief vignettes written by practitioners show how core practices teamwork the use of achievement data and planning for measurable goals made an immediate and profound difference in student learning at their respective schools A close look at these school systems reveals the simplicity of school improvement efforts built around the still overlooked and most potent force in improvement collective organized teacher intelligence This book contains easily adapted processes and refinements that result from such teacher collaboration and all but guarantee measurable improvement. Tables, figures, and appendices illustrate effective data collection processes, and at the conclusion a three-part synthesis of the best of these systems provides practical steps toward implementing this radically more effective approach to school improvement starting with preservice education.

In general, scientific inquiry about the benefits of digital gadgets focused on learning at all stages of Education is providing cognitive, affective, and attitudinal variables. However, cognitive effects stand out among these effects. In this topic of inquiry that we propose, we intend to investigate the phenomenon from a simple discipline to a multidisciplinary point of view that is from interventions that work transversally on some transversal theme in different disciplines or with a review approach from various points of view. We also propose it to deepen the phenomenon with interventions that are investigated from an interdisciplinary perspective, taking into account the qualitative and/or quantitative study of a variable from one discipline and another variable from another discipline. Likewise, other studies of the cognitive effects of technologies in learning with paradigms or innovative approaches and evaluation of more complex interventions can be considered. We are in a moment of transition from the use of analogue materials to digital tools, platforms, applications, gadgets, tablets, mobiles, etc., and advanced technology formats, immersive realities, and artificial intelligence. This is a moment of technological transformation in which the benefits of new technologies in learning are beginning to be investigated both in interventions with grouping in individual perspective or in an interactive and collaborative perspective among equals. It also coincides with the development of neuroscience and psychology applied to Education. This research topic aims to contribute to deepen this topic and provide a global vision. It also intends to indicate to what extent the development of the cognitive is relevant as well as to extend the variables that must be considered.
