Making a Difference: Volume I and II Sasha A. Barab, Kenneth E. Hay, Nancy Butler Songer, Daniel T.

Hickey, 2017-09-05 William Wordsworth 1770 1850 needs little introduction as the central figure in Romantic poetry and a crucial influence in the development of poetry generally This broad ranging survey redefines the variety of his writing by showing how it incorporates contemporary concepts of language difference and the ways in which popular and serious literature were compared and distinguished during this period It discusses many of Wordsworth's later poems comparing his work with that of his regional contemporaries as well as major writers such as Scott The key theme of relationship both between characters within poems and between poet and reader is explored through Wordsworth's construction of community and his use of power relationships A serious discussion of the place of sexual feeling in his writing is also included Active Learning: Theoretical Perspectives, Empirical Studies and Design Profiles Robert Cassidy, Elizabeth S. Charles, James D.

Slota, Nathaniel Lasry, 2019-07-11 This book represents the emerging efforts of a growing international network of researchers and practitioners to promote the development and uptake of evidence based pedagogies in higher education at something a level approaching large scale impact By offering a communication venue that attracts and enhances much needed partnerships among practitioners and researchers in pedagogical innovation we aim to change the conversation and focus on how we work and learn together i e extending the implementation and knowledge of co design methods In this first edition of our Research Topic on Active Learning we highlight two of the three types of publications we wish to promote First are studies aimed at understanding the pedagogical designs developed by practitioners in their own practices by bringing to bear the theoretical lenses developed and tested in the education research community These types of studies constitute the practice pull that we see as a necessary counterbalance to knowledge push in a more productive pedagogical innovation ecosystem based on research practitioner partnerships Second are studies empirically examining the implementations of evidence based designs in naturalistic settings and under naturalistic conditions Interestingly the teams conducting these studies are already exemplars of partnerships between researchers and practitioners who are uniquely positioned as in between straddling the two worlds As a result these publications represent both the rigours of research and the pragmatism of reflective practice In forthcoming editions we will add to this collection a third type of publication design profiles These will present practitioner developed pedagogical designs at varying levels of abstraction to be held to scrutiny amongst practitioners instructional designers and researchers alike We hope by bringing these types of studies together in an open access format that we may contribute to the development of new forms of practitioner researcher interactions that promote co design in pedagogical innovation Cognitive Systems Chris Forsythe, Michael L. Bernard, Timothy E.

Goldsmith, 2006-08-15 The leading thinkers from the cognitive science tradition participated in a workshop sponsored by Sandia National Laboratories in July of 2003 to discuss progress in building their models The goal was to summarize the theoretical and empirical bases for cognitive systems and to present exemplary developments in the field Following the workshop a great deal of planning went into the creation of this book Eleven of the twenty six presenters were asked to contribute chapters and four chapters are the product of the breakout sessions in which critical topics were discussed among the participants An introductory chapter provides the context for this compilation Cognitive Systems thus presents a unique merger of cognitive modeling and intelligent systems and attempts to overcome many of the problems inherent in current expert systems It will be of interest to researchers and students in the fields of cognitive science computational modeling intelligent systems artificial intelligence and human computer interaction

2006 Physics Education Research Conference Laura McCullough, Paula Heron, Leon Hsu, 2007-03-05 Syracuse New York 26 27 July 2006 Research Based Undergraduate Science Teaching Dennis W. Sunal, Cynthia S Sunal, Emmett L. Wright, Cheryl L. Mason, Dean

Zollman, 2014-07-01 Research in Science Education RISE Volume 6 Research Based Undergraduate Science Teaching examines research theory and practice concerning issues of teaching science with undergraduates This RISE volume addresses higher education faculty and all who teach entry level science The focus is on helping undergraduates develop a basic science literacy leading to scientific expertise RISE Volume 6 focuses on research based reforms leading to best practices in teaching undergraduates in science and engineering The goal of this volume is to provide a research foundation for the professional development of faculty teaching undergraduate science Such science instruction should have short and longterm impacts on student outcomes The goal was carried out through a series of events over several years The website at <http://nseus.org> documents materials from these events The international call for manuscripts for this volume requested the inclusion of major priorities and critical research areas methodological concerns and results of implementation of faculty professional development programs and reform in teaching in undergraduate science classrooms In developing research manuscripts to be reviewed for RISE Volume 6 researchers were asked to consider the status and effectiveness of current and experimental practices for reforming undergraduate science courses involving all undergraduates including groups of students who are not always well represented in STEM education To influence practice it is important to understand how researchbased practice is made and how it is implemented The volume should be considered as a first step in thinking through what reform in undergraduate science teaching might look like and how we help faculty to implement such reform
