Ecce Romani, Set, Bks. 3-4 Gilbert Lawall, David M. Tafe, Carol Esler, 1990-12

The Last Descendant of Aeneas

Marie Tanner, 1993-01-01 From antiquity to the eve of the modern era rulers of Western empires inspired hero worship by proclaiming their divine origins In this fascinating original study Marie Tanner presents the history of the emperor's mythic image and its continuing influence on Western political thought She shows that these pretensions to divinity were based on the Trojan legend and the myth of Rome as developed in Vergil's Aeneid and that later Christian emperors expanded these claims by tracing their lineage not only to the pagan gods but also to the priest kings of the Old Testament Through this amalgam of heritages each successive Holy Roman emperor proclaimed that he was the last descendant of Aeneas destined to yield the terrestrial rule of Rome to Christ and thereby inaugurate millennial peace By examining a wide range of literary artistic and historical sources plus a corpus of new illustrations Tanner discovers remarkable chains of evidence for this process one that culminates with the Renaissance Hapsburgs who imbued the holiest symbols of the faith with dynastic meaning as they attempted to consolidate all priestly and secular powers in their grip On these foundations Philip II of Spain son of the Holy Roman Emperor Charles V and the first monarch to rule the four known continents created a new concept of absolute monarchy that shaped the principles of modern statecraft and determined the dominant form of government in Europe for the next two centuries

Apocalyptic Cartography Chet Van Duzer, Ilya Dines, 2015-11-24

In Apocalyptic Cartography Thematic Maps and the End of the World in a Fifteenth Century Manuscript Chet Van Duzer and Ilya Dines analyse Huntington Library HM 83 an unstudied manuscript produced in Lbeck Germany The manuscript contains a rich collection of world maps produced by an anonymous but strikingly original cartographer These include one of the earliest programs of thematic maps and a remarkable series of maps that illustrate the transformations that the world was supposed to undergo during the Apocalypse The authors supply detailed discussion of the maps and transcriptions and translations of the Latin texts that explain the maps Copies of the maps in a fifteenth century manuscript in Wolfenbttel prove that this unusual work did circulate A brief article about this book on the website of National Geographic can be found here

The Roman Republic of Letters Katharina Volk, 2023-12-05 An intellectual history of the late Roman Republic and the senators who fought both scholarly debates and a civil war In The Roman Republic of Letters Katharina Volk explores a fascinating chapter of intellectual history focusing on the literary senators of the mid first century BCE who came to blows over the future of Rome even as they debated philosophy history political theory linguistics science and religion It was a period of intense cultural flourishing and extreme political unrest and the agents of each were very often the same people

Members of the senatorial class including Cicero Caesar Brutus Cassius Cato Varro and Nigidius Figulus contributed greatly to the development of Roman scholarship and engaged in a lively and often polemical exchange with one another. These men were also crucially involved in the tumultuous events that brought about the collapse of the Republic and they ended up on opposite sides in the civil war between Caesar and Pompey in the early 40s. Volk treats the intellectual and political activities of these senator scholars as two sides of the same coin exploring how scholarship and statesmanship mutually informed one another and how the acquisition, organization and diffusion of knowledge was bound up with the question of what it meant to be a Roman in a time of crisis. By revealing how first century Rome's remarkable republic of letters was connected to the fight over the actual res publica, Volk's riveting account captures the complexity of this pivotal period. The Vatican
