Habermas and Literature Geoff Boucher, 2021-06-03 Although Habermas has written about the cultural role of literature and about literary works he has not systematically articulated a literary critical method as a component of either communicative reason or post metaphysical thinking Habermas and Literature brings Habermasian concepts and categories into contact with aesthetic and cultural theories in and around the Frankfurt School and beyond Its central claim is that Habermas contribution to literary and cultural criticism is the concept of literary rationality and the notion that literature performs a key role in the formation of the modern social imaginary Habermas and Literature maintains that literary works have two faces discursive intervention in the public sphere and personal integration of imaginative disclosures that depend upon two modalities of literary reception critique and identification It develops the resulting literary theory through detailed discussion of the theories advanced by Habermas followed in each case by synthetic and reconstructive argumentation that brings the framework of communicative reason into dialogue with literary methods aesthetic theories and psychoanalytic categories It does so through close engagement with debates around aesthetic rationality world disclosure social imaginaries post secular society and the utopian demand for happiness articulated by artworks In the process the Habermasian position is critically reconstructed when necessary with reference to psychoanalytic and literary theories and tested in relation to demanding fiction and popular works
