Economics Final Examination Paper 1 2014 Memorandum:

Economic Governance in Europe Federico Fabbrini, 2016-01-28 The Euro Crisis and the legal and institutional responses to it have had important constitutional implications on the architecture of the European Union EU Going beyond the existing literature Federico Fabbrini's book takes a broad look and examines how the crisis and its aftermath have changed relations of power in the EU disaggregating three different dimensions 1 the vertical relations of power between the member states and the EU institutions 2 the relations of power between the political branches and the courts and 3 the horizontal relations of power between the EU member states themselves The first part of the book argues that in the aftermath of the Euro crisis power has been shifting along each of these axes in paradoxical ways In particular through a comparison of the United States Fabbrini reveals that the EU is nowadays characterized by a high degree of centralization in budgetary affairs an unprecedented level of judicialization of economic questions and a growing imbalance between the member states in the governance of fiscal matters As the book makes clear however each of these dynamics is a cause for concern as it calls into question important constitutional values for the EU such as the autonomy of the member states in taking decision about taxing and spending the preeminence of the political process in settling economic matters and the balance between state power and state equality The second part of the book therefore devises possible options for future legal and institutional developments in the EU which may revert these paradoxical trends In particular Fabbrini considers the ideas of raising a fiscal capacity restoring the centrality of the EU legislative process and reforming the EU executive power and discusses the challenges that accompany any further step towards a deeper Economic and Monetary Union A

A Thousand Cuts Alexandros Kentikelenis, Thomas Stubbs, 2023 The dominant policy response to economic crises over the past four decades has been the introduction of austerity a mix of budget cuts and reforms to downsize the role of the state In A Thousand Cuts Alexandros Kentikelenis and Thomas Stubbs examine the activities of the world's leading advocate of austerity the International Monetary Fund As one of the first systematic assessments of the impact of austerity on people's lives around the world A Thousand Cuts makes an important contribution to the continuing debate on how to foster social protection in light of economic crises and IMF mandated policy reforms Rethinking Investment Incentives Ana Teresa Tavares-Lehmann, Perrine Toledano, Lise Johnson, Lisa Sachs, 2016-07-12 Governments often use direct subsidies or tax credits to encourage investment and promote economic growth and other development objectives Properly designed and implemented these incentives can advance a wide range of policy objectives increasing employment promoting sustainability and reducing inequality Yet since design and implementation are complicated incentives have been associated with rent seeking and wasteful public spending This collection illustrates the different types and uses of these initiatives worldwide and examines the institutional steps that extend their value By combining economic analysis with development impacts regulatory issues and policy options these essays show not only how to increase the mobility of capital so that cities states nations and regions can better attract direct and retain investments but also how to craft policy and compromise to ensure incentives endure
