Arnold Curtis, 1971      Measured Constructs Cyril J. Weir, Ivana Vidaković, Evelina D. Galaczi, 2013-05-23 This volume establishes how English language constructs were measured in Cambridge English examinations over the period 1913 to 2012 An addition to the Studies in Language Testing series this volume provides an overview of English language testing over the last century with coverage of key theoretical and practical aspects of the assessment of reading listening writing and speaking skills It includes examples of the Cambridge English exams old and new and is the first volume to describe in a systematic way the different theoretical influences which have shaped the development of the constructs underlying Cambridge English exams in the last 100 years      Current Topics in Language and Literature Nataša Bakić-Mirić, 2019-03-25 This volume brings together 15 peer reviewed papers which discuss numerous current topics in language and literature It synthesizes various contemporary practical topics in post secondary education written by active researchers and practitioners in their respective areas By using research methods such as mixed methods case studies discourse analysis grounded theory and the repertory grid the contributors offer insights into the ways in which higher education continuously changes and evolves to face constant challenges resulting from new instructional practices Taking this into consideration this book will help educators researchers and students to keep up with these changes and to stay aware of contemporary issues relating to post secondary education      CPE ,1960      Defining and Assessing Lexical Proficiency Agnieszka Leńko-Szymańska, 2019-11-05 This comprehensive account of performance based assessment of L2 lexical proficiency analyzes and compares two of the primary methods of evaluation used in the field and unpacks the ways in which they tap into different dimensions of one model of lexical competence and proficiency This book builds on the latest research on performance based assessment which has most recently pointed to the application of more quantitative measures to L2 data to systematically explore the qualitative method of using human raters in assessment exercises and the quantitative method of using automatic computation of statistical measures of lexis and phraseology Supported by an up to date review of the existing literature both approaches unique features are highlighted but also compared to one another to provide a holistic overview of performance based assessment as it stands today at both the theoretical and empirical level These findings are exemplified in a concluding chapter which summarizes results from an empirical study looking at a range of lexical and phraseological features and human raters scores of over 150 essays written by both L2 learners of English and native speakers Taken together the volume challenges existing tendencies within the field which attempt to use one method to validate one another by demonstrating their capacity to indicate very different elements of lexical proficiency thereby offering a means by which to better conceptualize performance based assessment of L2 vocabulary in the future This book will be of interest to students and researchers working in second language acquisition and applied linguistics research particularly those interested in issues around assessment vocabulary acquisition and language proficiency The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a CC BY NC ND 4.0 license
