The Future of Civic Education Elizabeth Yeager Washington, Keith C. Barton, 2024-10-01 Speaking to the need to move beyond traditional formulations this textbook presents radical visions for transforming civic education in the United States Drawing on the experience of educators and scholars including those rooted in feminist queer abolitionist global and race conscious perspectives this work offers new practical ideas for civic education reform Responding to recent political crises many scholars educators and public commentators have called for a rebirth of civic education but these all are grounded in the premise that the goal of civic education should be to teach students about the U S Constitutional system and how to operate within it This book argues that the U S governmental system including the Constitution is infused with racist and anti democratic premises and procedures It asks How can we seek a new path one that is more democratic more equitable and more humane A diverse range of leading civic educators who are willing not just to push the boundaries of civic education but to operate outside its assumptions altogether explore what future possibilities for civic education might look like and how these innovative ideas could be implemented in the classroom Combining theory with practice The Future of Civic Education will be important reading for those studying or researching in social studies methods social studies issues citizenship and civic education It will also be beneficial to social studies teachers at elementary and secondary levels as well as policymakers and non governmental organizations NGOs

Civic Education and Youth Political Participation, 2009-01-01 Why does it appear that many young people are disengaging from democracy and political participation For many governments politicians academics social commentators and researchers this is a serious and challenging problem Consequently widespread interest exists on how to engage young people in politics and democracy Civic education has re emerged as a possible answer to this question though not necessarily in the form in which it may be currently known This book examines research into issues about the engagement of young people in politics and democracy and examines research on civic education applications and programs which may address concerns about youth political participation Murray Print and Henry Milner are professors from the University of Sydney and the Universite de Montreal respectively They have brought together a group of leading researchers exploring the relationship between political participation and civic education to examine this relationship in greater depth
