Nouveau dictionnaire de médecine et de chirurgie pratiques Sigismond Jaccoud,1872 Burial and Memorial in Late Antiquity ,2024-10-02 Burial and Memorial explores funerary and commemorative archaeology A D 284 650 across the late antique world This second volume includes papers exploring all aspects of funerary archaeology from scientific samples in graves to grave goods and tomb robbing and a bibliographic essay It brings into focus neglected regions not usually considered by funerary archaeologists in NW Europe such as the Levant where burial archaeology is rich in grave good to Sicily and Sardinia where post mortem offerings and burial manipulations are well attested We also hear from excavations in Britain from Canterbury and London and see astonishing fruits from the application of science to graves recently excavated in Trier Encyclopédie pratique de l'agriculteur ,1863 Nouveau dictionnaire de médecine et de chirurgie

pratiques ,1864 L'Agriculture pratique ,1938 L'invention des pratiques dans l'agriculture Jean-Pierre Darré,1996-01-01 Making a Mark Andrew Meirion Jones,Marta Díaz-Guardamino,2019-03-31 The visual imagery of Neolithic Britain and Ireland is spectacular While the imagery of passage tombs such as Knowth and Newgrange are well known the rich imagery on decorated portable artefacts is less well understood How does the visual imagery found on decorated portable artefacts compare with other Neolithic imagery such as passage tomb art and rock art How do decorated portable artefacts relate chronologically to other examples of Neolithic imagery Using cutting edge digital imaging techniques the Making a Mark project examined Neolithic decorated portable artefacts of chalk stone bone antler and wood from three key regions southern England and East Anglia the Irish Sea region Wales the Isle of Man and eastern Ireland and Northeast Scotland and Orkney Digital analysis revealed for the first time the prevalence of practices of erasure and reworking amongst a host of decorated portable artefacts changing our understanding of these enigmatic artefacts Rather than mark making being a peripheral activity we can now appreciate the central importance of mark making to the formation of Neolithic communities across Britain and Ireland The volume visually documents and discusses the contexts of the decorated portable artefacts from each region discusses the significance and chronology of practices of erasure and reworking and compares these practices with those found in other Neolithic contexts such as passage tomb art rock art and pottery decoration A contribution from Antonia Thomas also discusses the settlement art and mortuary art of Orkney while Ian Dawson and Louisa Minkin contribute with a discussion of the collaborative fine art practices established during the project Nouveau dictionnaire de médecine et de chirurgie pratiques ... v. 16, 1872 , La pratique du breton Fañch Broudig,1995 Fragments of the Bronze Age Matthew G. Knight,2022-02-03 The destruction and deposition of metalwork is a widely recognised phenomenon across Bronze Age Europe Weapons were decommissioned and thrown into rivers axes were fragmented and piled in hoards and ornaments were crushed contorted and placed in certain landscapes

Interpretation of this material is often considered in terms of whether such acts should be considered ritual offerings or functional acts for storing scrapping and recycling the metal This book approaches this debate from a fresh perspective by focusing on how the metalwork was destroyed and deposited as a means to understand the reasons behind the process To achieve this this study draws on experimental archaeology as well as developing a framework for assessing what can be considered deliberate destruction Understanding these processes not only helps us to recognise how destruction happened but also gives us insights into the individuals involved in these practices Through an examination of metalwork from south west Britain it is possible to observe the complexities involved at a localised level in the acts of destruction and deposition as well as how they were linked to people and places This case study is used to consider the social role of destruction and deposition more broadly in the Bronze Age highlighting how it transformed over time and space
