A guide to what's on how to listen and what to buy The Known World of Broadcast News Stanley Baran, 2003-09-02 Radio and television news are expanding everywhere often at the expense of print media Developments in global communications in theory at least have made the world smaller An event anywhere can theoretically be reported anywhere else on radio within minutes on television within hours But theory and practice are often far apart Broadcast News has become a global business almost like the music industry with its own Top 10 and an inevitable streamlining of taste A few major organisations control the newsflow Syndicators guarantee that more and more of us get to see or hear the same stories This is typified by the growth of independent or local news stations and cable suppliers competing mercilessly with the traditional giants of the news airwaves the US Networks the BBC and other Public Service Broadcasters etc But does this development satisfy the democratic demands of enlightened society and of informed citizens This book presents a catalogue of worries but also some rays of hope It looks in detail at news broadcasters on both sides of the Atlantic It also covers the international broadcasting scene as well as third world countries and recent developments in Glasnost's USSR A major empirical study of what we get from broadcast news taking the case of the USA Britain and Sweden is also presented Models useful for understanding both the present and the future are suggested Consumers Union Reports Consumers Union of United States, 1938
