Food and Cooking Skills Education Anita Tull,2018-01-29 Food and Cooking Skills Education FCSE is a complex mix of policy and practicality educational theory and pedagogy classroom and government policy This book shows how FCSE has been at the centre of a tussle between education and policy for decades It reviews how FCSE has grappled with various significant issues of concern that threaten to marginalise it and pose problems for educational practicalities as expectations are increased but resources are squeezed It assesses the debate about the significance and importance of acquiring practical food and cooking skills in a society where the purchase of ready made food has become commonplace and public knowledge of where our food comes from is noticeably lacking This has contributed to the escalating incidence of diet related diseases and the attendant cost to society and threatened environmental sustainability In turn governments have reacted by proposals to make practical cooking skills a statutory National Curriculum subject as part of the armoury for tackling such costs Based on detailed research conducted across England and Wales as well as comparisons with thirty five other countries or states the author makes recommendations for policy to manage this challenge facing contemporary society Credit, Consumers and the Law Karen Fairweather,Paul O'Shea,Ross Grantham,2016-10-14 Consumer law particularly consumer credit law is characterised by increasingly complex regulation in Western economies Reacting to the Global Financial Crisis governments in the UK the EU Australia New Zealand and the United States have adopted new laws dealing with consumer credit responsible lending consumer guarantees and unfair contracts Drawing together authors from all of these jurisdictions this book analyses and evaluates these initiatives and makes predictions as to their likely success and possible flaws Campus

Diversity John M. Carey,Katherine Clayton,Yusaku Horiuchi,2019-12-19 Media politicians and the courts portray college campuses as divided over diversity and affirmative action But what do students and faculty really think This book uses a novel technique to elicit honest opinions from students and faculty and measure preferences for diversity in undergraduate admissions and faculty recruitment at seven major universities breaking out attitudes by participants race ethnicity gender socio economic status and political partisanship Scholarly excellence is a top priority everywhere but the authors show that when students consider individual candidates they favor members of all traditionally underrepresented groups by race ethnicity gender and socio economic background Moreover there is little evidence of polarization in the attitudes of different student groups The book reveals that campus communities are less deeply divided than they are often portrayed to be although affirmative action remains controversial in the abstract there is broad support for prioritizing diversity in practice
