Contemporary British History Vol 20 No 1:

Losing an Empire and Finding a Role K. Stoddart, 2012-04-11 This book sheds fresh light on developments in British nuclear weapons policy between October 1964 when the Labour Party came back into power under Harold Wilson following a thirteen year absence and June 1970 when the Conservative government of Edward Heath was elected Rhodesia's Unilateral Declaration of Independence Hugh Pattenden, Carl P. Watts, Sue Onslow, 2025-10-30 This book brings together ways of understanding the multiple and complex dimensions of Rhodesia's Unilateral Declaration of Independence in 1965 and highlights its importance to wider African and World history Penguin Books and political change Dean Blackburn, 2020-11-12 Founded in 1935 by a young publisher disillusioned with the class prejudices of the interwar publishing trade Penguin Books set out to make good books available to all The Penguin Specials a series of current affairs books authored by leading intellectuals and politicians embodied its democratising mission Published over fifty years and often selling in vast quantities these inexpensive paperbacks helped to shape popular ideas about subjects as varied as the welfare state homelessness social class and environmental decay Using the Specials as a lens through which to view Britain's changing political landscape Dean Blackburn tells a story about the ideas that shaped post war Britain Between the late 1930s and the mid 1980s Blackburn argues Britain witnessed the emergence and eclipse of a meritocratic moment at the core of which was the belief that a strong relationship between merit and reward would bring about social stability and economic efficiency Equal opportunity and professional expertise values embodied by the egalitarian aspirations of Penguin's publishing ethos would be the drivers of social and economic progress But as the social and economic crises of the 1970s took root many contemporary thinkers and politicians cast doubt on the assumptions that informed meritocratic logic Britain's meritocratic moment had passed The Sword and the Shield Kristan Stoddart, 2014-04-29 Kristan Stoddart reveals for the first time discussions that took place between the British French and US governments for nuclear cooperation in the early to mid 1970s In doing so it sets the scene for the upgrade to Britain's Polaris force codenamed Chevaline and how this could have brought down Harold Wilson's Labour government of 1974-1976 The Conservative Party and the Destruction of Selective Education in Post-War Britain Piers Legh, 2023-01-26 The book tells the untold story of the Conservative Party's involvement in terms of stance and policy in the destruction of selective state education from 1945 up to the present day Close consideration is paid to their attitudes and prejudices towards education both in power and in opposition Legh examines the Party's responses to the pressure for comprehensive schooling and egalitarianism from the Labour Party and the British left In doing so Legh defies current historiography to demonstrate that the Party were not passive actors in the advancement of comprehensive schooling The lively narrative is moved along by the author's critical examination of the Education Ministers throughout this period Florence Horsbrugh and David Eccles serving under Churchill and Eden and also Quintin Hogg and Geoffrey Lloyd under Macmillan as well as Edward Boyle and Margaret Thatcher under Edward Heath Legh's detailed research utilises a range of government documents, personal papers, parliamentary debates and newspapers to provide this crucial re-assessment of the Conservative Party and selective education and in doing so questions over simplistic generalisations about wholesale support for selective education policy. It reveals instead questioning compromises and disagreements within the Party and its political and ideological allies. The result is a stimulating revival of existing scholarship which will be of interest to scholars of British education and politics.
