Cutting-Edge Language and Literacy Tools for Students on the Autism Spectrum Beals, Katharine P.,2022-06-24

Providing all students particularly those with learning disabilities with the skills necessary to succeed in school and by extension the real world is vital in today's educational landscape. Due to this need, innovative language and literacy tools have been developed to support these students in their learning endeavors and ensure they are receiving the best education possible. Cutting Edge Language and Literacy Tools for Students on the Autism Spectrum covers the root causes of the language and learning challenges in autism, their consequences for language acquisition and literacy, and a variety of tools and strategies for addressing them, from teaching technologies to assistive technologies. Drawing on what the most current evidence shows about the nature of autism and which therapies and technologies are most successful, the book reviews the efficacy of existing language therapies, literacy strategies, and assistive technologies. Covering topics such as speech deficits, language learning, comprehension, and assistive communication tools, this reference work is ideal for clinicians, behavioral specialists, speech language pathologists, special educators, researchers, academicians, practitioners, scholars, educators, and students.

Leading-edge Educational Technology Thomas B. Scott, James I. Livingston, 2008. This new book focuses on the latest research gains in the field of educational technology, which is a creative blending of idea and product technologies with subject matter content in order to engender and improve teaching and learning processes. Educational technology is often associated with the terms instructional technology or learning technology. Product technologies are tangible, for example, computer hardware or software. Idea technologies are cognitive frameworks or schemes, for example, the Multiple Intelligence Theory proposed by Howard Gardner. When products are thoughtfully blended with subject matter content, such as mathematics or science concepts, for a specific audience in a specific educational context, such as a school, one is using educational technology. The words educational and technology in the term educational technology have the general meaning. Educational technology is not restricted to the education of children nor to the use of high technology.
