BENDIX® BA-922® COMPRESSOR

DESCRIPTION

The function of the air compressor is to provide and maintain air under pressure to operate devices in the air brake systems. The Bendix® BA-922® compressor is a two cylinder reciprocating compressor with a rated displacement of 31.6 cubic feet per minute at 1250 RPM.

The compressor consists of a water cooled cylinder head, cooling plate, valve plate assembly and an integral air cooled crankcase and cylinder block. The cast aluminum cylinder head contains the required air and water ports as well as two unloader pistons. The cast aluminum cooling plate provides added cooling to, and is located between, the cylinder head and valve plate assemblies. The valve plate assembly consists of laminated brazed steel plates which incorporate various valve openings and channels for conducting air and engine coolant into and out of the cylinder head.

The discharge valves are part of the valve plate assembly. The cylinder head, with the cooling and valve plates comprise a complete cylinder head assembly.

The cast iron crankcase and cylinder block assembly, houses the pistons, connecting rods, crankshaft and related bearings.

While not all compressors and charging systems are equipped with an optional discharge line safety valve, this component is recommended. The discharge line safety valve is installed in the cylinder head or close to the compressor discharge port and protects against over pressurizing the compressor in the event of a discharge line freeze up or blockage.

OPERATION

The compressor is driven by the vehicle engine and functions continuously while the engine is in operation. Actual compression of air is controlled by the compressor unloading mechanism operating in conjunction with a governor.
