Brownian Models Of Performance And Control J Michael Harrison:

Brownian Models of Performance and Control J. Michael Harrison, 2013-12-02 Direct and to the point this book from one of the field's leaders covers Brownian motion and stochastic calculus at the graduate level and illustrates the use of that theory in various application domains emphasizing business and economics The mathematical development is narrowly focused and briskly paced with many concrete calculations and a minimum of abstract notation The applications discussed include the role of reflected Brownian motion as a storage model queueing model or inventory model optimal stopping problems for Brownian motion including the influential McDonald Siegel investment model optimal control of Brownian motion via barrier policies including optimal control of Brownian storage systems and Brownian models of dynamic inference also called Brownian learning models or Brownian filtering models

Processing Networks J. G. Dai, J. Michael Harrison, 2020-10-15 The state of the art in fluid based methods for stability analysis giving researchers and graduate students command of the tools

Modeling, Stochastic Control, Optimization, and Applications George Yin, Qing Zhang, 2019-07-16 This volume collects papers based on invited talks given at the IMA workshop in Modeling Stochastic Control Optimization and Related Applications held at the Institute for Mathematics and Its Applications University of Minnesota during May and June 2018 There were four week long workshops during the conference They are 1 stochastic control computation methods and applications 2 queueing theory and networked systems 3 ecological and biological applications and 4 finance and economics applications For broader impacts researchers from different fields covering both theoretically oriented and application intensive areas were invited to participate in the conference It brought together researchers from multi disciplinary communities in applied mathematics applied probability engineering biology ecology and networked science to review and substantially update most recent progress As an archive this volume presents some of the highlights of the workshops and collect papers covering a broad range of topics

Processing Networks J. G. Dai, J. Michael Harrison, 2020-10-15 This state of the art account unifies material developed in journal articles over the last 35 years with two central thrusts It describes a broad class of system models that the authors call stochastic processing networks SPNs which include queueing networks and bandwidth sharing networks as prominent special cases and in that context it explains and illustrates a method for stability analysis based on fluid models The central mathematical result is a theorem that can be paraphrased as follows If the fluid model derived from an SPN is stable then the SPN itself is stable Two topics discussed in detail are a the derivation of fluid models by means of fluid limit analysis and b stability analysis for fluid models using Lyapunov functions With regard to applications there are chapters devoted to max weight and back pressure control proportionally fair resource allocation data center operations and flow management in packet networks Geared toward researchers and graduate students in engineering and applied mathematics especially in electrical engineering and computer science this compact text gives readers full command of the methods

Asset Pricing and Portfolio Choice Theory Kerry E.

Back, 2017-01-04 In the 2nd edition of Asset Pricing and Portfolio Choice Theory Kerry E Back offers a concise yet comprehensive introduction to and overview of asset pricing. Intended as a textbook for asset pricing theory courses at the Ph D or Masters in Quantitative Finance level with extensive exercises and a solutions manual available for professors, the book is also an essential reference for financial researchers and professionals as it includes detailed proofs and calculations as section appendices. The first two parts of the book explain portfolio choice and asset pricing theory in single period discrete time and continuous time models. For valuation, the focus throughout is on stochastic discount factors and their properties. A section on derivative securities covers the usual derivatives: options, forwards, and futures, and term structure models, and also applications of perpetual options to corporate debt, real options, and optimal irreversible investment. A chapter on explaining puzzles, and the last part of the book provide introductions to a number of additional current topics in asset pricing research including rare disasters, long run risks, external and internal habits, asymmetric and incomplete information, heterogeneous beliefs, and non expected utility preferences. Each chapter includes a Notes and References section providing additional pathways to the literature. Each chapter also includes extensive exercises.

We are grateful to the Scientific Committee: Daniel Stroock, Chairman; Wendell Fleming, Theodore Harris, Pierre Louis Lions, Steven Orey, George Papanicolaou, for planning and implementing an exciting and stimulating year long program. We especially thank Wendell Fleming and Pierre Louis Lions for organizing an interesting and productive workshop in an area in which mathematics is beginning to make significant contributions to real world problems. George R Seil, Hans Weinberger. PREFACE This volume is the Proceedings of a Workshop on Stochastic Differential Systems, Stochastic Control Theory and Applications held at IMA, June 9-19, 1986. The Workshop Program Committee consisted of W H Fleming and P L Lions, co chairmen; J Baras, B Hajek, J M Harrison, and H Sussmann. The Workshop emphasized topics in the following four areas: 1. Mathematical theory of stochastic differential systems, stochastic control, and nonlinear filtering for Markov diffusion processes. Connections with partial differential equations. 2. Applications of stochastic differential system theory in engineering and management science. Adaptive control of Markov processes. Advanced computational methods in stochastic control and nonlinear filtering. 3. Stochastic scheduling, queueing networks, and related topics. Flow control, multiarm bandit problems, applications to problems of computer networks and scheduling of complex manufacturing operations.
