Playful Memories Jordana Blejmar, 2016-12-28 This volume examines the blending of fact and fiction in a series of cultural artefacts by post dictatorship writers and artists in Argentina many of them children of disappeared or persecuted parents Jordana Blejmar argues that these works which emerged after the turn of the millennium pay testament to a new cultural formation of memory characterised by the use of autofiction and playful aesthetics She focuses on a range of practitioners including Laura Alcoba Lola Arias Félix Bruzzone Albertina Carri Mar a Giuffrè Victoria Grigera Dupuy Mariana Eva Pérez Lucila Quieto and Ernesto Semán who look towards each other's works across boundaries of genre and register as part of the way they address the legacies of the 1976-1983 dictatorship Approaching these works not as second hand or adoptive memories but as memories in their own right Blejmar invites us to recognise the subversive power of self figuration play and humour when dealing with trauma

Management and Inter/Intra Organizational Relationships in the Textile and Apparel Industry Margalina, Vasilica-Maria, Lavín, José M., 2019-12-27 Numerous clothing industries face highly dynamic environments and growth in this environment depends upon both external and internal factors External factors are represented by aggressive competition and volatile product demand Internally the industry must face an increasingly shorter life cycle of the product and the need to innovate both product and organizational development The competitive advantage of the industry lies in its ability to design a value creating system based on the management of both external and internal relationships The successful management of these relationships relies not only on successful customer relationship management but also on effective product supply and demand upkeep Management and Inter Intra Organizational Relationships in the Textile and Apparel Industry provides emerging research exploring relevant theoretical frameworks and the latest empirical research underlining the complexity of management applications within the textile industry Featuring coverage on a broad range of topics such as consumer relationships cultural identity and organizational culture this book is ideally designed for researchers academicians professionals and students working in various disciplines including management industrial organization organizational behavior human resource management decision science design science and information and communication Moreover the book will provide insights and support executives and managers of the textile and apparel industry concerned with the ethic design contamination and the management relationships with workers customers suppliers the community and organizational development

The Politics of Postmemory Geoffrey Maguire, 2017-08-28 This volume examines recent examples of Argentine literature film theatre and visual art from the children of the disappeared By exploring their creative narration of childhood memories and the controversial use of parody humour and fantasy Maguire considers how this post dictatorship generation are increasingly looking towards the past in order to disrupt the politics of the present More broadly this interdisciplinary study also scrutinizes the relevance of postmemory in a Latin American context arguing that the politics of local Argentine memory practices must be taken actively into account if such a theoretical framework is to remain a productive and appropriate analytical lens The Politics of Postmemory thus engages critically with theories of cultural memory in the Argentine Latin American and global contexts resulting in a timely and innovative text that will be of significant interest to students and scholars in the fields of among others cultural studies film studies critical theory and trauma studies

Five Hundred Years of LGBTQIA+ History in Western Nicaragua Victoria González-Rivera, 2024-10-08 This groundbreaking book reframes five hundred years of western Nicaraguan history by giving gender and sexuality the attention they deserve Victoria González-Rivera decenters nationalist narratives of triumphant mestizaje and argues that western Nicaragua's LGBTQIA history is a profoundly Indigenous one In this expansive history González-Rivera documents connections between Indigeneity local commerce and femininity cis and trans demonstrating the long history of LGBTQIA Nicaraguans She sheds light on historical events such as Andrés Caballero's 1536 burning at the stake for sodomy González-Rivera discusses how elite efforts after independence to modernize open air markets led to increased surveillance of LGBTQIA working class individuals She also examines the 1960s and the Somoza dictatorship when another wave of persecution emerged targeting working class gay men and trans women leading to a more stringent anti sodomy law The centuries prior to the post 1990 political movement for greater LGBTQIA rights demonstrate that far from being marginal LGBTQIA Nicaraguans have been active in every area of society for hundreds of years

Travet, 2013-09-07 How does one survive during times of crisis all without demoralising oneself and without giving up on those little things in life which turn the ordinary into the extraordinary In comes Emma T where T stands for Travet a rather common surname and which has nothing to do with Emma Thompson She is 26 years old and she lives in Italy in a small town near Turin which has been hit by the automobile crisis and where one of Europe's first gay bars was opened. By day she works as a journalist who is overworked by her boss Mr Vintage so called not because he is cool but because his outmoded clothes smell of mothballs just like his thoughts. Waking up each morning Saturdays included is not exactly a dream come true. It would be infinitely better to write for Vanity Fair to which she has been sending her CV each week for the past 2 years. Sooner or later she's sure someone is going to reply even if only from mere exhaustion. In the meantime she continues to write for The Voice of Monviso and for a magazine read by the young adults of the area NEW MAG. To make ends meet she sometimes works as a copy writer dressed a l w a y s in black or takes artistic glamorous photographs of her grandmother Olga Dionigia her favourite model whom she features in shoots styled by her good friend Wolfgang and which she then sells to an English magazine who loves these contemporary snapshots. A dreamer who is a careful spender she affronts her everyday life with a healthy dose of irony and inventiveness balancing her time between her husband family friends both new and old and her ultra flexible job. And whilst she bakes articles on local fairs and conducts interviews with obscure personalities she dreams of writing for Vanity Fair. Will our heroine manage to step into the Vanity's editor in chief's office? This is the story of just one of the many ordinary young damsels out there whom in between one adventure and the next chases her dreams armed with plenty of determination and incurable optimism. Her style is fresh and dynamic almost diary like and features snapshots and situations drawn from her everyday and which are described through the eyes of someone who defines herself as precarious yes but with style.
