

DOC 13: Developments and Revelations 1945-1979

Historical Context

Following World War II, the post-war reconstruction efforts in Japan, including the development of a new constitution, were supervised by the United States and the United Kingdom. In a series of secret meetings, the two nations agreed upon the "Four Big Principles" for the post-war reconstruction of Japan. These principles included: (1) the establishment of a new constitution, (2) the establishment of a new government, (3) the establishment of a new economy, and (4) the establishment of a new culture. The principles were intended to guide the reconstruction of Japan and to ensure that the new government would be a democratic one.

- Directions: The document contains a letter from the reconstruction committee to the Japanese government. The letter discusses the principles of reconstruction and the role of the United States and the United Kingdom. The letter also discusses the importance of the Four Big Principles and the need for the Japanese government to follow these principles.
- 1. Carefully read the document (your journal) carefully before you start to write about this topic. Your journal should discuss the document and your own thoughts on the document.
- 2. Journal and Research: Journal: Write a journal entry about the document. Research: Research the Four Big Principles and the role of the United States and the United Kingdom in the reconstruction of Japan.
- 3. Based on your own knowledge and the information found in the document, formulate a thesis statement about the document.
- 4. Organize your writing and discuss the information you found in the document.
- 5. Write a well-organized and well-developed essay. The essay should discuss the Four Big Principles and the role of the United States and the United Kingdom in the reconstruction of Japan.

Directions: Read the document carefully and discuss the Four Big Principles and the role of the United States and the United Kingdom in the reconstruction of Japan.

- Part 2: The following questions are designed to help you think about the document and your own thoughts on the document. Write your answers in your journal.
