The Oxford Handbook of Stress and Mental Health Kate L. Harkness, Elizabeth P. Hayden, 2019-12-17 Decades of research have unequivocally shown that life stress is a central factor in the onset and course of almost every psychiatric disorder. However, the processes by which stress influences mental health are complex, and the integration of the myriad of biological and psychological systems involved requires a multidisciplinary perspective. Fortunately, scientists working from diverse vantage points have made huge advances in unpacking the complexities of stress disorder relations. The Oxford Handbook of Stress and Mental Health provides a comprehensive up-to-date overview of the science of stress and mental health. Topics covered include assessment issues, the role of stress in various mental disorders, developmental influences, and individual difference factors that predict reactivity to stress and treatment of stress-related mental health problems. Internationally recognized scholars in the field of stress and stress-related disorders have contributed their diverse expertise, providing both depth and breadth in terms of understanding stress and mental health. Chapters 1 to 4 provide a critical discussion of assessment issues in the domains of stress exposure and stress response. Chapters 5 to 14 review the relation of stress exposures to a broad range of mental health outcomes across the lifespan. Chapters 15 to 25 are concerned with understanding how the stress response unfolds at both psychological and neurobiological levels. Lastly, Chapters 26 to 33 address stress adaptation and resilience, as well as evidence-based treatments for stress and stress-related disorder. This volume will constitute an invaluable resource for students, established scientists, and clinicians looking for a comprehensive treatment of the topic of stress and mental health.

Proceedings of the 8th International Conference on Human Rights Aleksander W. Bauknecht, Branisław Sitek, Jakub J. Szczerbowski, 2009-10-02. The material contained in this publication is the outcome of the 8th International Conference on Human Rights, Right to Knowledge and Information in Heterogenic Society, organized by the Faculty of Law and Administration in the University of Warmia and Mazury in Olsztyn, Poland, in cooperation with the Faculty of Law in the University of Bari, Italy, which took place on 30-31 May 2008 in Olsztyn. The selection of issues in no respect can be called accidental. The summit of the European Council in Lisbon in March 2000 created foundations for creating society based on knowledge that is conscious in gaining information and equal access to knowledge. Individual actions of countries should aim at creating a human-friendly information society which allows creation of new working places and developing information and telecommunication technologies. This broad spectrum of problems, which were the subject of the conference, interests not only Polish researchers but also scientists from countries like Italy, Spain, Ukraine, the United States of America, United Kingdom, and South Korea.
