Economic Memorandum Grade11 Paper 1 2013:

South African Schooling: The Enigma of Inequality Nic Spaull, Jonathan D. Jansen, 2019-11-05 This volume brings together many of South Africa's leading scholars of education and covers the full range of South African schooling from financing and policy reform to in depth discussions of literacy numeracy teacher development and curriculum change The book moves beyond a historical analysis and provides an inside view of the questions South African scholars are now grappling with Are there different and preferential equilibria we have not yet thought of or explored and if so what are they In practical terms how does one get to a more equitable distribution of teachers resources and learning outcomes While decidedly local these questions resonate throughout the developing world South Africa today is the most unequal country in the world The richest 10% of South Africans lay claim to 65% of national income and 90% of national wealth This is the largest 90/10 gap in the world and one that is reflected in the schooling system Two decades after apartheid it is still the case that the life chances of most South African children are determined not by their ability or the result of hard work and determination but instead by the colour of their skin the province of their birth and the wealth of their parents Looking back on almost three decades of democracy in South Africa it is this stubbornness of inequality and its patterns of persistence that demands explanation justification and analysis This is a landmark book on basic education in South Africa an essential volume for those interested in learning outcomes and their inequality in South Africa The various chapters present conceptually and empirically sophisticated analyses of learning outcomes across divisions of race class and place The book brings together the wealth of decades of research output from top quality researchers to explore what has improved what has not and why Prof Lant Pritchett Harvard University There is much wisdom in this collection from many of the best education analysts in South Africa No surprise that they conclude that without a large and sustained expansion in well trained teachers early childhood education and adequate school resources South Africa will continue to sacrifice its people's future to maintaining the privileges of the few Prof Martin Carnoy Stanford University Altogether one can derive from this very valuable volume if not an exact blueprint for the future then certainly at least a crucial and evidence based itinerary for the next few steps Dr Luis Crouch RTI

The Man Who Knew Sebastian Mallaby, 2017-12-05 Exceptional Deeply researched and elegantly written As a description of the politics and pressures under which modern independent central banking has to operate the book is incomparable Financial Times The definitive biography of the most important economic statesman of our time from the bestselling author of The Power Law and More Money Than God Sebastian Mallaby s magisterial biography of Alan Greenspan the product of over five years of research based on untrammelled access to his subject and his closest professional and personal intimates brings into vivid focus the mysterious point where the government and the economy meet To understand Greenspan s story is to see the economic and political landscape of our time and the presidency from Reagan to George W Bush in a whole new light As the most influential economic statesman of his age Greenspan spent a lifetime grappling with a momentous shift the transformation of finance from the fixed and regulated system of the post war era to the free for all of the past quarter century The story of Greenspan is also the story of the making of modern finance for good and for ill Greenspan's life is a quintessential American success story raised by a single mother in the Jewish migr community of Washington Heights he was a math prodigy who found a niche as a stats crunching consultant A master at explaining the economic weather to captains of industry he translated that skill into advising Richard Nixon in his 1968 campaign This led to a perch on the White House Council of Economic Advisers and then to a dazzling array of business and government roles from which the path to the Fed was relatively clear A fire breathing libertarian and disciple of Ayn Rand in his youth who once called the Fed's creation a historic mistake Mallaby shows how Greenspan reinvented himself as a pragmatist once in power In his analysis and in his core mission of keeping inflation in check he was a maestro indeed and hailed as such At his retirement in 2006 he was lauded as the age's necessary man the veritable God in the machine the global economy's avatar His memoirs sold for record sums to publishers around the world But then came 2008 Mallaby's story lands with both feet on the great crash which did so much to damage Alan Greenspan's reputation Mallaby argues that the conventional wisdom is off base Greenspan wasn't a na ve ideologue who believed greater regulation was unnecessary He had pressed for greater regulation of some key areas of finance over the years and had gotten nowhere To argue that he didn't know the risks in irrational markets is to miss the point He knew more than almost anyone the question is why he didn't act and whether anyone else could or would have A close reading of Greenspan's life provides fascinating answers to these questions answers whose lessons we would do well to heed Because perhaps Mallaby's greatest lesson is that economic statesmanship like political statesmanship is the art of the possible The Man Who Knew is a searching reckoning with what exactly comprised the art and the possible in the career of Alan Greenspan

Law Mart Riaz Tejani, 2017-07-18 American law schools are in deep crisis Enrollment is down student loan debt is up and the profession's supply of high paying jobs is shrinking Meanwhile thousands of graduates remain underemployed while the legal needs of low income communities go substantially unmet Many blame overregulation and seek a free market to solve the problem but this has already been tested Seizing on a deregulatory policy shift at the American Bar Association private equity financiers established the first for profit law schools in the early 2000s with the stated mission to increase access to justice by serving the underserved Pursuing this mission at a feverish rate of growth they offered the promise of professional upward mobility through high tech simplified teaching and learning In Law Mart a vivid ethnography of one such environment Riaz Tejani argues that the rise of for profit law schools shows the limits of a market based solution to American access to justice Building on theories in law political economy and moral anthropology Tejani reveals how for profit law schools marketed themselves directly to ethnoracial and socioeconomic minority communities relaxed admission standards increased diversity shook up established curricula and saw student success rates plummet They contributed to a dramatic rise in U S law student debt burdens while charging premium tuition financed up front through federal loans over time If economic theories have so influenced legal scholarship what happens when they come to shape law school transactions governance and oversight For students promised professional citizenship

by these institutions is there a need for protections that better uphold institutional quality and sustainability Offering an unprecedented glimpse of this landscape Law Mart is a colorful foray into these essential questions Children of the Northern Forest Jamie Sayen,2023-10-31 This no holds barred narrative of the failure of conservation in northern New England s forests envisions a wilder more equitable lower carbon future for forest dependent communities Jamie Sayen approaches the story of northern New England s undeveloped forests from the viewpoints of the previously unheard the forest and the nonhuman species it sustains the First Peoples and in more recent times the disenfranchised human voices of the forest including those of loggers mill workers and citizens who like Henry David Thoreau wish to speak a kind word for nature From 1988 to 2016 paper companies sold their timberlands and closed seventeen paper mills in northern New England Policy makers ceded veto power to large absentee landowners who tried to preserve the status quo by demanding additional tax cuts and other subsidies for economic elites They vetoed measures designed to restore and preserve forest health at present about half of the former industrial forests are classified as degraded and the regional economy continues to be trapped in low value commodity markets This book operates as a case study of how a rural resource region can respond to a global economy responsible for climate change habitat loss and degradation and environmental injustice Sayen offers a blueprint for restoring vast wildlands and transitioning to a lower carbon high value adding local economy while protecting the natural rights of humans nonhumans and unborn generations The Black Diamond ,1927 Mergent Industrial Manual ,2002 Economics Carden Madzokere,2017 Economics ,2007
