

eConnect Basics

Incoming Integrations

Incoming integrations refer to any integration where data is moved into Microsoft Dynamics GP. There are several ways to integrate data into Microsoft Dynamics GP using eConnect:

- Pass an XML document to the eConnect .NET Assembly.
- Put an XML document on a queue and have the Incoming Service process the document.
- Send an XML document to BizTalk and have BizTalk process the document by using the eConnect adapter.

An incoming service is included with eConnect and can be used to pull documents off a queue and push them directly into Microsoft Dynamics GP by using the eConnect API. This means that all that you must do is create XML documents in the correct format and then put them on a queue. The Incoming Service picks the XML document off the queue, validates the document, and then creates the appropriate record in Microsoft Dynamics GP.

Incoming Integrations (Part 2)

The Incoming Service installation includes an eConnect_Incoming.exe.config file. This file is an XML configuration document that contains setup and specification rules for the Incoming Service. By default, this configuration file is created at the following location:

C:\Program Files\Common Files\Microsoft Shared\eConnect10\Services\Incoming Service

You must modify the eConnect_Incoming.exe.config file after the service is installed. One key that must be modified is the eConnect.BackOffice.ConnectionString key. Change the key to represent the connection string for the Microsoft Dynamics GP SQL Server.
