Surveys indicate that 50% of people say that someone's smile is the first thing they notice. I personally have always been insecure about my teeth because of the gap in the middle. So, I spent alot of my time worrying what other people thought about me, growing up you realize that you're not the only one who cares so much what others think. A dental hygienist is the person who specializes in scaling and polishing teeth and giving advice on cleaning teeth. Your teeth are a very important part of your body and something you need to keep up on. As kids grow older from being teens to young adults they forget about things like that, going to get your teeth cleaned every 6 months. I want to help people make themselves feel good just like many of ... Show more content on HelpWriting.net ...

Some of the benefits that a Dental Hygienist will receive is health insurance and dental insurance. According to (Dentistry) 53% of dental hygienists are covered through a family members plan, which means they work at the dental office but are covered through a different plan, say you are covered through your significant others plan. 38% of dental hygienists are covered through their employer's plan, and 9% are uninsured. For dental insurance, 43% receive treatment at reduced costs at employers practice, 24% are covered by a family member's plan, 22% are uninsured, and 10% are covered by a plan provided by the employer. There are many risks that involve working in a dentist office and as a dental hygienist. Exposure to disease and infections is a risk that any dental profession needs to be aware of. Knowing the signs and symptoms of diseases, and not allowing any sick patients to sit in my chair unless they are in dental pain. Also, of course not to allow sick staff members come to work. Remember to always wash your hands frequently. 88% of disease is spread from hand-to-hand contact. Exposure to contaminants is also a risk, wearing proper personal protective equipment, including sharps and chemical-resistant utility gloves. Limit the use of chemicals, there are many areas in dentistry where we can limit the use of chemicals. There are a lot of perks of
