Helps students create the best programs for young children ages three through eight. The authors' goal in writing Developmentally Appropriate Curriculum: Best Practices in Early Childhood Education was to bring together the best information currently available for developing an integrated approach to curriculum and instruction in the early years. The Sixth Edition addresses all aspects of classroom life, including the roles of children and adults, the physical and social environments, and teaching and learning within multiple domains for children age three to eight. It provides a comprehensive, cohesive approach to curriculum development which results in greater continuity for children and practitioners in group settings in childcare, preschool, and the early elementary grades. Concentrating as much on the how of curriculum development as on the what and why, the authors provide practical, research-based guidelines for translating theory into best practice that accommodates age appropriateness, individual differences, and social and cultural diversity. Students learn how to conceptualize, plan, implement, and evaluate curriculum through detailed application opportunities in each chapter. Improve mastery and retention with the Enhanced Pearson eText. The Enhanced Pearson eText provides a rich, interactive learning environment designed to improve student mastery of content. The Enhanced Pearson eText is Engaging. The new interactive multimedia learning features were developed by the authors and other subject matter experts to deepen and enrich the learning experience. Developmentally Appropriate Teaching in Early Childhood Dominic F. Gullo, 1992 The guiding principles of developmentally appropriate early childhood education are examined along with pertinent research, concrete examples, and implications for practice. Chapter 1 provides a brief introduction to recent trends in early childhood education. Chapter 2 considers the principle of matching early childhood education practices to the ways children learn. Factors affecting children's development and the unique characteristics of young children's thinking are explored. Chapter 3 addresses the implementation of developmentally appropriate curricula in learning environments that are structured to encourage exploration and facilitate learning and development. Characteristics of the environments and materials from which children process information construct knowledge and solve problems are examined The guiding principle considered in chapter 4 is that of viewing the age range of 5 to 8 years as a continuum of development rather than as a series of discrete grade levels Curricular and instructional strategies for dealing with the similarities and differences in this age span are discussed Chapter 5 urges educators to consider parent involvement as a critical element in the early childhood curriculum The benefits of parent involvement for children parents teachers and schools are described Chapter 6 delves into the relationship between evaluation the curriculum and the child arguing for the use of ongoing evaluation for decision making and curriculum development Finally chapter 7 offers a transactional approach to teaching in early childhood
