

The Giver - Book report

Summarizing of the first chapter

Jonas - the main character

Lily - Jonas's sister

Jonas's Father is a Nurturer.

The first chapter introduces a highly controlled, seemingly utopian society where a young boy named Jonas lives. The community is peaceful, orderly, and everything is regulated to ensure conformity. People follow strict rules, and emotions are suppressed. Jonas feels apprehensive as the annual Ceremony of Twelve approaches. This is a significant event where twelve-year-olds are assigned their lifelong roles in the community. Each child receives a job chosen by the Elders based on their skills and interests. Jonas wonders what assignment he will receive, as he doesn't feel a strong connection to any specific role. The chapter gives a glimpse of the society's controlled nature, like "releases," which are hinted at but not fully explained, and the use of precise language to avoid misunderstandings. Jonas's father, a Nurturer, is caring for a struggling baby named Gabriel, who might face "release" if he doesn't improve.

Summarizing of the second chapter

Jonas's father's sister's name is Katya

Jonas's mom is a lawyer

Jonas and his parents discuss the upcoming Ceremony of Twelve, a significant event where children turning twelve are assigned their lifelong roles in the community. Jonas feels anxious about what his assignment will be, as each role is chosen by the community's Elders based on an individual's skills and interests.

Jonas's father recalls how he was chosen to be a Nurturer, and his mother shares her experience being selected for her role in the Department of Justice. Jonas's parents try to reassure him, telling him that the Elders are always right in their choices, as they observe each child carefully. However, Jonas still feels nervous and uncertain about his future. This chapter emphasizes the importance of the community's structure and control, as well as Jonas's growing sense of unease about the future.

Summarizing of chapter 3

Jonas's family takes in a new child named Gabriel, who has pale eyes, just like Jonas. Pale eyes are rare in the community, as most people have dark eyes, making this similarity between Jonas and Gabriel stand out. Lily, Jonas's younger sister, comments on Gabriel's unusual appearance, and Jonas starts to feel a sense of connection to him.

Later, Jonas recalls a memory of breaking a community rule when he brought an apple home from recreation time. He noticed something odd happen to the apple—it seemed to change in a way he couldn't understand. This moment hints at Jonas's special abilities, though they aren't explained yet. The chapter further emphasizes the strictness of the rules in Jonas's community and begins to set up Jonas as someone who experiences the world differently from others.

Summarizing of chapter 4

Jonas goes to the House of the Old, where people who have reached a certain age live until they are "released." Jonas often volunteers here, along with his friends Fiona and Asher, as part of the required volunteer hours that all children must complete to learn about different occupations before they receive their job assignments at the Ceremony of Twelve.

While helping bathe an elderly woman named Larissa, Jonas listens to her talk about the "release" ceremony of another resident, Roberto. Larissa describes the ceremony as a joyous and dignified occasion but doesn't provide many details about what "release" really means. Jonas is curious about the process but is told that no one knows exactly what happens during a release.

The chapter provides more insight into the community's structure and rituals, showing how controlled and regulated everything is, even the care of the elderly. It also hints at Jonas's growing curiosity about the deeper truths behind the community's rules and ceremonies.

Summarizing of chapter 5

Jonas's family follows their daily ritual of sharing dreams at breakfast.

When it's Jonas's turn, he hesitates but then describes a dream he had.

In the dream, Jonas was in the bathing room at the House of the Old, and he wanted to bathe Fiona, his friend, but she wasn't agreeing.

His feelings in the dream were strong, and he found it unsettling.

Jonas's mother explains that his dream is an example of "stirrings," which are feelings of desire that begin in adolescence.

In the community, stirrings are suppressed by taking a mandatory pill every day.

His parents reassure him that these feelings are normal, but to prevent them, Jonas must now take this pill daily, just as they do.

Jonas feels uncomfortable but accepts this new part of growing up.

This chapter reveals more about how the community controls emotions and suppresses natural human instincts to maintain order and sameness. It also shows Jonas's first encounter with feelings of attraction, which will become important as the story progresses.
