Border Lines The Partition Of Judaeochristianity:

Border Lines Daniel Boyarin, 2010-11-24 The historical separation between Judaism and Christianity is often figured as a clearly defined break of a single entity into two separate religions Following this model there would have been one religion known as Judaism before the birth of Christ which then took on a hybrid identity Even before its subsequent division certain beliefs and practices of this composite would have been identifiable as Christian or Jewish In Border Lines however Daniel Boyarin makes a striking case for a very different way of thinking about the historical development that is the partition of Judaeo Christianity There were no characteristics or features that could be described as uniquely Jewish or Christian in late antiquity Boyarin argues Rather Jesus following Jews and Jews who did not follow Jesus lived on a cultural map in which beliefs such as that in a second divine being and practices such as keeping kosher or maintaining the Sabbath were widely and variably distributed The ultimate distinctions between Judaism and Christianity were imposed from above by border makers heresiologists anxious to construct a discrete identity for Christianity By defining some beliefs and practices as Christian and others as Jewish or heretical they moved ideas behaviors and people to one side or another of an artificial border and Boyarin significantly contends invented the very notion of religion Border Lines: the Partition of Judaeo-christianity ,2006 Jewish-Christianity and the History of Judaism Annette Yoshiko Reed, 2018-07-12 Jewish Christianity is a contested category in current research But for precisely this reason it may offer a powerful lens through which to rethink the history of Jewish Christian relations Traditionally Jewish Christianity has been studied as part of the origins and early diversity of Christianity Collecting revised versions of previously published articles together with new materials Annette Yoshiko Reed reconsiders Jewish Christianity in the context of Late Antiquity and in conversation with Jewish studies She brings further attention to understudied texts and traditions from Late Antiquity that do not fit neatly into present day notions of Christianity as distinct from Judaism In the process she uses these materials to probe the power and limits of our modern assumptions about religion and identity The Judeo-Christian Thought of Franz Rosenzweig Daniel M Herskowitz, 2025-10-14 The Judeo Christian Thought of Franz Rosenzweig offers a new interpretation of Franz Rosenzweig s magnum opus The Star of Redemption commonly treated as one of the high points of modern Jewish thought and demonstrates its profound immersion in the Protestant conceptuality of its time It argues that appreciating the decisive mark of Protestant thought on The Star solves many of its puzzles challenges some entrenched hagiographic orthodoxies about Rosenzweig and provides a unique perspective onto one of the most influential cases of the Protestantisation of Judaism The book shows that Rosenzweig s inventiveness resides in his weaving of Jewish and Christian motifs that result in an original scheme that is remarkably inclusive toward Judaism from a Christian perspective and remarkably inclusive toward Christianity from a Jewish perspective The Star thus emerges anew not simply as a work of Jewish thought that is influenced by Christian theology but as a work that is more accurately characterised as Judeo Christian Jewish Christianity Matt

Jackson-McCabe,2020-06-23 A fresh exploration of the category Jewish Christianity from its invention in the Enlightenment to contemporary debates For hundreds of years historians have been asking fundamental questions about the separation of Christianity from Judaism in antiquity Matt Jackson McCabe argues provocatively that the concept Jewish Christianity which has been central to scholarly reconstructions represents an enduring legacy of Christian apologetics Freethinkers of the English Enlightenment created this category as a means of isolating a distinctly Christian religion from what otherwise appeared to be the Jewish culture of Jesus and the apostles Tracing the development of this patently modern concept of a Jewish Christianity from its origins to early twenty first century scholarship Jackson McCabe shows how a category that began as a way to reimagine the apologetic notion of an authoritative original Christianity continues to cause problems in the contemporary study of Jewish and Christian antiquity He draws on promising new approaches to Christianity and Judaism as socially constructed terms of identity to argue that historians would do better to leave the concept of Jewish Christianity behind

C.S. Peirce and the Nested Continua Model of Religious Interpretation Gary Slater,2015-11-26 This study develops resources in the work of Charles S Peirce 1839 1914 for the purposes of contemporary philosophy It contextualizes Peirce s prevailing influences and provides greater context in relation to the currents of nineteenth century thought Dr Gary Slater articulates a nested continua model for theological interpretation which is indebted to Peirce s creation of Existential Graphs a system of diagrams designed to provide visual representation of the process of human reasoning He investigates how the model can be applied by looking at recent debates in historiography He deals respectively with Peter Ochs and Robert C Neville as contemporary manifestations of Peircean philosophical theology This work concludes with an assessment of the model s theological implications

Into All the World Mark Harding,Alanna Nobbs,2017-07-26 Into All the World the third volume from editors Mark Harding and Alanna Nobbs on the content and social setting of the New Testament brings together a team of eminent Australian scholars in ancient history New Testament and the early church to take the story of Christianity into the Jewish and Greco Roman world of the first century In thirteen chapters the contributors discuss all the post Pauline New Testament writings devoting attention to both their content and their context They examine the impact of the growth of the church on both Jews and Gentiles exploring issues such as the diaspora minorities the Book of Acts and the Fourth Gospel The book then proceeds to a discussion of the impact of Christianity on the Roman state including consideration of the book of Revelation and the imperial cult A final chapter investigates how the church was perceived by Clement of Rome at the end of the first century Bulletin of Judaeo-Greek Studies ,2003 Border Line ,2005 Index to Jewish Periodicals ,2005 An author and subject index to selected and American Anglo Jewish journals of general and scholarly interests From Metaphysics to Midrash Shaul Magid,2008-07-09 Shaul Magid explores the exegetical tradition of Isaac Luria and his followers within the historical context in 16th century Safed a unique community that brought practitioners of Judaism Christianity and Islam into close contact with one another The Journal of Jewish Studies ,2007 Jews and Judaism in the Middle Ages Theodore L. Steinberg,2008 Steinberg English SUNY at Fredonia Reading the Middle Ages presents a well researched yet highly accessible overview of medieval Jewry that takes neither a predominantly Western Christian approach to medieval history nor one limited to Hebrew speaking audiences Steinberg bridges the gap between works by medieval historians possessing a deep knowledge of the period but having almost no knowledge of the unique role and contributions of Jews during the era and works by Jewish scholars presuming in the reader a prior knowledge of Jewish identity history culture and language He clears up many misconceptions along the way e g that Jewish life in the Middle Ages was a succession of horrors arguing that an overemphasis on Jewish suffering has left scholars with a distorted picture of Jewish history He also highlights major contributions from Jewish philosophers and scholars of the period that culminated in the greatest achievement of the era the rise of Rabbinic Judaism Scholarly yet highly accessible this book fills a significant gap in the literature of the field and is recommended for all academic and most public libraries Brian Greene Northeastern Univ Libs Boston Copyright Reed Business Information a division of Reed Elsevier Inc All rights reserved Cities of God and Nationalism Khaldoun Samman,2007 A remarkable and original discussion of three great sacred cities across time and their transformation by nationalism in the modern world Immanuel Wallerstein Yale University Jewishness and the Human Dimension Jonathan Boyarin,2008 Two chapters on research and teaching in Jewish cultural studies as academic practice develop the notion of Jewish studies as a human science and examine how Jewish historiography once a deeply conservative discipline has integrated insights from anthropology and literary cultural studies Boyarin also shares a dialogue with the Jerusalem based physicist Martin Land on physical and cultural ideas of futurity and redemption The book ends with a stark challenge to those who work in the contemporary humanities and social sciences in order to be able to contribute to the possibility of sustained human life on Earth we need to interrogate rigorously now the status of human differences BOOK JACKET Massekhet Ta'anit Tal Ilan,2008 The Order of Moed in the Mishnah and Babylonian Talmud outlines the way Jews celebrate their festivals It is well known among feminists that Jewish life is not the same for men and women and that women experience Jewish festivals differently The purpose of the feminist commentary on Seder Moed is to outline these differences as they are reflected in the mishnaic and talmudic texts which have become canonical for Jews and serve as a blueprint for the way they live their lives In this introductory volume the questions of women s participation in Jewish festivals are handled on a more general and theoretic level than in the upcoming volumes which will be devoted to individual tractates Various world renown scholars discuss the role of women in the tractates of Seder Moed from a variety of aspects legal literary theological and historical BOOK JACKET Henoch ,2008 Imagining the City Christian Emden,Catherine Keen,David R. Midgley,2006 The urban spaces we inhabit today have been moulded by a combination of historical forces by social and economic processes by the specific designs of urban planners and by the regulatory and ritual practices of earlier times As arenas of cultural activity they are also imbued with legends symbolic associations and historical memories This second volume of papers arising from the conference Imagining the City held in Cambridge in 2004 examines the physical organization and the imaginative perception of cities from both a historical and a contemporary perspective and over a geographical range that reaches from Ukraine to Mexico It includes discussions of the ways in which cities have been envisaged in late antiquity in the Middle Ages and in early modern times as sites of religious cultural and political rituals of the uses to which urban spaces have been put by industrial societies and by the political cultures of the twentieth century and of the implications for the populations of particular cities of the roles these have played in establishing the historical identity of particular communities whether national political or religious and in the delineation of boundaries between cultures Hebraic Political Studies ,2007
