Bre Good Building Guide 44:

BRE Good Building Guide, 1990-04 Construction Materials Marios Soutsos, Peter Domone, 2017-10-10 This established textbook provides an understanding of materials behaviour through knowledge of their chemical and physical structure. It covers the main classes of construction materials: metals, concrete, other ceramics including bricks and masonry, polymers, fibre composites, bituminous materials, timber and glass. It provides a clear and comprehensive perspective on the whole range of materials used in modern construction, to form a must-have for civil and structural engineering students and those on courses such as architecture, surveying and construction. It begins with a Fundamentals section followed by a section on each of the major groups of materials. In this new edition, the section on fibre composites (FRP and FRC) has been completely restructured and updated. Typical questions with answers to any numerical examples are given at the end of each section as well as an instructor's manual with further questions and answers. The links in all parts have also been updated and extended, including links to free reports from The Concrete Centre as well as other online resources and material suppliers' websites, and now with solutions manual and resources for adopting instructors on <https://www.crcpress.com> 9781498741101

Residential Property Appraisal Phil Parnham, Larry Russen, 2022-11-30 Residential Property Appraisal Volumes 1 and 2 are handbooks not only for students studying residential surveying but also for those involved in the appraisal of residential property. Volume 1 has been updated and covers the valuation process as it relates to residential properties, particularly when valuation is undertaken for secured lending purposes. It addresses the basic skills required, the risks posed in a valuation, the key drivers of value, emerging issues that impact valuation and the key legal and RICS regulatory considerations that a valuer needs to understand. Volume 2 of the series goes on to consider the practical aspects of the survey and inspection of residential properties in more detail. Not only does this include updated sections on the most common defects, for example building movement, moisture problems, wood rot and wood-boring insects, it also covers emerging challenges including assessing personal safety hazards, modern construction technologies and materials and invasive plants. The volume also takes account of the Home Survey Standard recently published by the RICS and the changes resulting from climate change, the energy crisis and concerns about fire safety. Building services in domestic residential properties is another area of rapid change, especially with the development of low carbon and renewable technologies. To ensure that this aspect is covered in sufficient detail, the content is to be included in Volume 3, Assessing Building Services. An essential book for students studying to enter the residential survey and valuation profession and for existing practitioners who wish to improve their knowledge of current practices.

Construction Materials Peter Domone, John Illston, 2018-10-03 So far in the twenty-first century there have been many developments in our understanding of materials behaviour and in their technology and use. This new edition has been expanded to cover recent developments such as the use of glass as a structural material. It also now examines the contribution that material selection makes to sustainable construction practice considering the availability of raw materials production recycling and reuse which all contribute to the life cycle assessment of structures As well as being brought up to date with current usage and performance standards each section now also contains an extra chapter on recycling Covers the following materials metals concrete ceramics including bricks and masonry polymers fibre composites bituminous materials timber glass This new edition maintains our familiar and accessible format starting with fundamental principles and continuing with a section on each of the major groups of materials It gives you a clear and comprehensive perspective on the whole range of materials used in modern construction A must have for Civil and Structural engineering students and for students of architecture surveying or construction on courses which require an understanding of materials
