Cultural Landscapes Gabriel R. Ricci, 2018-02-06 A dualism between man and nature has been a persistent feature of Western thought and spirituality from ancient times to the present The opposition of mind and body consciousness and world has tended to obscure the ways in which humans are ecologically part of interconnected systems some of which are obvious while others operate in hidden but life sustaining ways Cultural Landscapes explores the physical ways in which we are intimately linked to the land and the intellectual and aesthetic connections human consciousness has with the landscape Following the editor's introductory essay the lead article by Jame Schaeffer Quest for the Common Good A Collaborative Public Theology for a Life Sustaining Climate assesses the lightning rod issue of global warming in the context of a public and ecumenical theology and sets the tone for this normative assessment of our relationship with nature Likewise David Kenley's essay Three Gorges be Dammed The Philosophical Roots of Environmentalism in China reveals the traditional philosophical and cultural values that can sustain a vital environmentalism in the East David Brown's historical insights into the use of the American landscape to define historical writing complement Patricia Likos Ricci's historical treatment of nineteenth century landscape painting and the first call to preserve wilderness in the United States Matt Willen An Feochszn and David Martinez What Worlds are Made of The Lakota Sense of Place both demonstrate how space is transformed into place through song and mythic tales On a metaphysical note Andreas Philippopoulos Mihalopolos essay On the Line of the Horizon Anxiety in de Chirico's Metaphysical Spaces provides the reader with psychological and existential insights into the disorienting paintings of de Chirico and Gabriel Ricci's concluding essay tours the landscape that underpins Heidegger's ontological speculations. The contributions to this volume are posited on the belief that culture, society, and human history are ultimately rooted in the natural world. This integration may explain why humanity has always looked to nature for moral and ethical guidelines. Gabriel R. Ricci is associate professor of humanities and the chair of the Department of History at Elizabethtown College in Pennsylvania. He is the author of Time Consciousness: The Philosophical Uses of History published by Transaction.

Creation Care Douglas J. Moo, Jonathan A. Moo, 2018-02-27
 What does the Bible say about the natural world and its place within God's purpose? From Genesis to Revelation, the Bible reveals a God whose creative power and loving care embrace all that exists from earth and sky and sea to every creature. Yet the significance of the Bible's extensive teaching about the natural world is easily overlooked by Christians accustomed to focusing only on what the Bible says about God's interaction with human beings. In Creation Care, father and son team Douglas and Jonathan Moo invite readers to open their Bibles afresh to explore a comprehensive biblical theology of creation care as well as a careful analysis of the most up-to-date scientific data about the state of our world. Following the contours of the biblical storyline, they uncover answers to questions such as: What is the purpose of the non-human creation? Can a world with things like predators, parasites, and natural disasters still be the good world described in Genesis 1? What difference does the narrative of the Fall make for humankind's responsibility to rule over other creatures? What difference does Jesus make for our understanding of the natural world? How does our call to care for creation fit within the hope for a new heaven and a new earth? What is unique about Christian creation care compared with other approaches to environmental issues? How does creation care fit within the charge to proclaim the gospel and care for the poor? Rather than merely offering a response to environmental concerns, Creation Care invites readers into a joyful vision of the world as God's creation in which they can rediscover who they truly are as creatures called to love and serve the Creator and to delight in all he has made.

Part of the Biblical Theology for Life series, this practical and robust book will help you develop an effective and faithful Christian response to the scriptural teaching about the created world.

God's Gardeners Melissa Ong, Prarthini M. Selveindran, 2020-01-17
 This collection of stories marks Singapore's first book on creation care. Each story captures how ordinary Christians from different walks of life have humbly put their faith into radical action and integrated the biblical ethos of creation care into the everyday. The writers reflect on creation care as an organic part of the path of discipleship and missional living rather than an imposed or burdensome duty. The book presents a refreshing local perspective on the distinctiveness of Christian environmental ethics, seeks to encourage fellow Christians on this creation care journey, and inspire those who have yet to begin. Ultimately, it is an invitation to followers of Christ to care for God's marvellous creation as an act of worship and love.

Following Jesus in a Warming World Kyle Meyaard-Schaap, 2023-02-21
 Many young Christians are waking up to the realities of climate change but just don't know how to help. Through stories from the field theological and scriptural exploration and practical advice this field guide from Christian climate activist Kyle Meyaard Schaap helps us take meaningful action grounded in the joy of caring for creation Christianity, Climate Change and Sustainable Living Nick Spencer, Robert White, 2007 This book represents the first serious Christian engagement with the emerging issue of sustainable consumption and production Spencer and White analyse the scientific sociological economic and theological thinking that makes a Christian response to these trends both imperative and distinctive Their practical conclusions explore what can be done at the personal community national and international levels to make sustainable living a reality Firmly rooted in the good news of the Christian faith this is above all a constructive and hopeful book that offers a realistic vision of a better future Book Jacket Hope for Creation Jonathan J. Bonk, Michel G. Distefano, J. Nelson Jennings, Jinbong Kim, Jae Hoon Lee, 2024-04-02 Can the Desert Be Green Our world is in peril Environmental degradation human suffering and relentless calamities confront us daily painting a picture of a planet in distress Amid this daunting reality how can God's people respond effectively This critical question beckons for a thoughtful and proactive response that intertwines faith and ecology with tangible action in our increasingly fragile world Hope for Creation offers a unique blend of theological insight and practical application It gathers perspectives from theologians and practitioners each giving a comprehensive understanding of creation care The contributors not only diagnose environmental and humanitarian issues but also propose actionable solutions rooted in biblical foundations and contemporary experiences This book is a call to action for Christians and mission leaders worldwide urging active participation in restoring and preserving our planet It equips church leaders missionaries and believers with the knowledge and tools to make a meaningful impact By embracing this mission readers contribute to a sustainable hopeful future joining a transformative journey towards environmental and human healing For the Beauty of the Earth () Steven Bouma-Prediger, 2001-10-01 Caring for the environment is a growing interest among evangelicals This award winning book provides the most thorough evangelical treatment available on a theology of creation care Authentic Christian faith requires ecological obedience writes Steven Bouma Prediger He urges Christians to acknowledge their responsibility and privilege as stewards of the earth The second edition has been substantially revised and updated with the latest scientific and environmental research Christianity in a Time of Climate Change Kristen Poole, 2020-04-17 What does climate change have to do with religion and spirituality Even though a changing environment will have a dire impact on human populations affecting everything from food supply to health to housing the vast majority of Americans do not consider climate change a moral or a religious issue Yet the damage of climate change a phenomenon to which we all contribute through our collective carbon emissions presents an unprecedented ethical problem one that touches a foundational moral principle of Christianity Jesus's dictate to love the neighbor This care for the neighbor stretches across time as well as space We are called to care for the neighbors of the future as well as those of the present How can we connect the ethical considerations of climate change the knowledge that our actions directly or indirectly cause harm to others to our individual and collective spiritual practice Christianity in a Time of Climate Change offers a series of reflective essays that consider the Christian ethics of climate change and suggest ways to fold the neighbors of the future into our spiritual lives as an impetus to meaningful personal social and ultimately environmental transformations Caring for Creation Brian Davis, 2020-08-20 In this 5 session course Brian Davis vividly reminds us that the human race is facing its greatest challenge global warming leading to climate change This along with the damage we have done and are still doing to the environment God's wonderful creation means that we all have to make radical changes to our whole way of life Many of us who care about this issue are sometimes understandably quite pessimistic about the future That's where faith in God should make a difference Hope for the future is not the same as being optimistic Being optimistic suggests always looking on the bright side A hope based on faith in God should enable us to open our eyes and see what is actually happening to our planet today and still believe there is much that we can do individually and together with God to guide and strengthen us This York Course is available in the following formats Course Book Paperback 9781909107311 Course Book eBook 9781909107496 Audio Book of Interview to support Caring for Creation York Course CD 9781909107403 Audio Book of Interview Digital Download 9781909107489 Transcript of interview to support Caring for Creation Course Paperback 9781909107328 Transcript of interview eBook 9781909107502 Book Pack 9781909107410 Featuring Paperback Course Book Audio Book on CD and Paperback Transcript of Interview Large print 9781909107427 The five sessions focus on SESSION 1 The Environment SESSION 2 Global Warming and Climate Change SESSION 3 The Age of Humans The Anthropocene Era SESSION 4 Coming out of Denial and Facing Crisis SESSION 5 Faith Hope and Love The course audio features Ruth Valerio Environmentalist theologian social activist Tearfund Director and author of Saying Yes to Life SPCK 2020 Dave Bookless who specializes in biblical theology and biodiversity conservation and is Director of Theology for A Rocha International Kuki Rokhum who is on the Leadership Team of Renew our World and involved in the Lausanne Creation Care network and David Clogh who launched CreatureKind and DefaultVeg projects and is concerned with the place of animals in Christian theology and ethics Perspectives on Science and Christian Faith, 2007 It's God's World Vera K. Green Revolution Ben Lowe, 2009-11-19 We are facing planet sized challenges Climate change and environmental crises can be pretty immobilizing and we can fall into the temptation of thinking that we can't make a difference But it's not just about what we can do on our own to make a difference It's about what we can do when we mobilize together as a movement and combine for community action Activist Ben Lowe calls the present generation to come together and care for the earth in a way that recent generations have not Telling real life stories of community organizing on college campuses across the nation Lowe shows us that little things can make a big difference when we all work together We now have an opportunity to show the world what it looks like when Christians care for the planet God gave us so that future generations can live sustainably This is our moment This is our issue Come join the green revolution Creation Care Discipleship Steven Bouma-Prediger, 2023-10-17 Although our planet faces numerous ecological crises including climate change many Christians continue to view their faith as primarily a spiritual matter that has little relationship to the world in which we live But Steven Bouma Prediger contends that protecting and restoring our planet is part and parcel of what it means to be a Christian Making his case from Scripture theology and ethics and including insights from the global church Bouma Prediger explains why Christians must acknowledge their identity as earthkeepers and therefore embrace their calling to serve and protect their home planet and fellow creatures To help readers put an earthkeeping faith into practice he also suggests numerous practical steps that concerned believers can take to care for the planet Bouma Prediger unfolds a biblical vision of earthkeeping and challenges Christians to view care for the earth as an integral part of Christian discipleship
