Investigating Family, Food, and Housing Themes in Social Studies Cynthia Williams Resor,2017-10-08

Investigating Family Food and Housing Themes in Social Studies asks students to critically examine their own culture by contrasting it with the daily lives of average people in the past. What people ate where people lived and the functions of families are examined and contrasted to subjective cultural ideals prescribing what families food and housing ought to have been. The relationship between housing food and family and social class status and gender are emphasized. Each chapter includes essential questions to focus student inquiry, historical overviews focused on changes in family food and housing from the pre industrial era through its transformation during the Industrial Revolution and into the twentieth century, learning activities and primary source documents and images. This unique approach to teaching history and social studies supports thematic instruction, culturally responsive teaching, place based education and literacy in the elementary, middle or secondary classrooms.

Around Town with Carol on White Briar Farm Carole Lokan-Moore, 2021-10-12 Over 300 stories of children and critters here on Whitebriar Farms could not be contained in one book but is a book set. There is no rhyme or reason to the numbering so don't think I missed anything but even with mismatched numbers on chapters realize they are in chronological order as the experience came along. God has blessed me many times with a wonderful family and the ability to show people thru words the wonderful life that can be had on a farm with animals and children.
