Farm Joyce Kinkead, Evelyn Funda, Lynne S. McNeill, 2020-06-01 In Farm Joyce Kinkead, Evelyn Funda, and Lynne S. McNeill explore the culture of agriculture through a diverse and multicultural collection of fiction, poetry, essays, art, recipes, and folklore. This reader views farming through a variety of lenses, asking students to consider what farms, farming, and farmers mean and have meant to culture in the United States. In the text, readers are guided through the Jeffersonian idealism of the yeoman farmer, cultivators of the earth, the chosen people of God, to literature of the nineteenth and twentieth centuries: Thoreau's The Bean Field, Cather's prairie trilogy, Steinbeck's The Grapes of Wrath, and Carpenter's Farm City. Contributors provide historical context for the literary texts, such as discussion of sharecropping vs. plantation systems, the rise of agribusiness and chemical farming, and Teddy Roosevelt's Country Life Commission. Written visual and oral texts ask readers to consider the farm in art, Grant Wood's ecology, Rachel Carson's Silent Spring, children's and young adult literature, classic children's books, YA novels, nonfiction, and poetry, advertising from early boosterism to Chipotle videos, print culture, farmers' market and victory garden posters from both world wars, folklore, food culture, vintners, and veterinarian practices, popular culture, Farm Aid concerts, and much more. Each reading is supported by activities, exercises, projects, and visual rhetorical elements that further connect students to agriculture and the essential work of farmers.

The Alchemy of Illness Kat Duff, 1993 Illness is a universal experience. There is no privilege that can make us immune to its touch. We are taught to assume health, illnesses being just temporary breakdowns in the well-oiled machinery of the body. But illness has its own geography, its own laws and commandments. At a time when the attention of the whole nation is focused on health care, Kat Duff inquires into the nature and function of illness itself. Duff, a counselor in private practice in Taos, New Mexico, wrote this book out of her experience with chronic fatigue syndrome, but what she has to say is applicable to every illness and every one of us. For those who are sick, this book offers solace and recognition. For those who care for them, either physically or emotionally, it offers inspiration and compassion. Finally, this fresh perspective on healing reveals how every illness is a crucible that tries our mettle, tests our limits, and provides us with an unparalleled opportunity to integrate its lessons into our lives.

Depletion and Abundance Sharon Astyk, 2008-09-01 Climate change, peak oil, and economic instability aren't just future social problems; they jeopardize our homes and families right now. Our once abundant food supply is being threatened by toxic chemical agriculture, rising food prices, and crop shortages brought on by climate change. Funding for education and health care is strained to the limit, and safe and affordable housing is disappearing. Depletion and Abundance explains how we are living beyond our means, with or without a peak oil/climate change crisis, and that either way we must learn to place our families and local communities at the center of our thinking once again. The author presents strategies to create stronger homes better health and a richer family life and to live comfortably with an uncertain energy supply prepare children for a hotter lower energy less secure world survive and thrive in an economy in crisis and maintain a kitchen garden to supply basic food needs Most importantly readers will discover that depletion can lead to abundance and the anxiety of these uncertain times can be turned into a gift of hope and action An unusual family perspective on the topic this book will appeal to all those interested in securing a future for their children and grandchildren A Window Into History Eleanor MacDonald,1996 A list of over 200 books and audio cassettes that are derived from family stories Includes enrichment activities and projects to encourage children to discover more about their own families Whole Earth Access Mail Order Catalog ,1985 The Great Survival Resource Book Martha Allen Henderson,1980 The Publishers Weekly ,2009
