

What's hot in woodburning stoves

BLESSED WITH NATURAL WARMTH, INTELLIGENT EFFICIENCY AND OH-SO APPEALING LOOKS, THE LATEST DESIGNS HAVE IT ALL.

1

BEST FOR... Versatility

Chesney's, £1,842

The Shoreditch multifuel 6kW stove comes in woodburner and multifuel options with outputs to suit different room sizes. 'A woodburner is energy efficient – you can turn down the oxygen feed for a slow burn or up for a fast and furious flame,' says Paul Chesney, Managing Director, Chesney's. 'The flames create a wonderful atmosphere and the heat output is substantial.'

2

BEST FOR... Statement style

ACR Heat Products, £1,485

'The contemporary design of the 5kW Neo 3P with its pedestal and three large viewing panes is ideal for a freestanding position,' says Vicky Naylor, General Manager, ACR Heat Products. 'The flue can exit through an adjacent wall, or can be taken up to the room above and out through the roof. Ask your registered installer about your best option.'

3

BEST FOR... Efficiency

Age Stoves, £2,295

'We've noticed greater demand for stoves with large glass windows, which offer a fantastic "flame picture" such as in our 5.9kW Dorrington woodburner,' says Nigel Morrison, Marketing Manager, Age Stoves. 'The Active Airflow system helps keep the glass clear and also ensures that the stove burns efficiently and maintains optimum heat output.'

4

BEST FOR... Smoke control areas

Stovax, £1,195 (plus bench, £375)

If you live in a town or city, you're probably in a smoke control area. 'In this case, only authorised smokeless fuels can be used in a multifuel stove,' says Marcus Eastwood, Senior Technical Adviser, Stovax. 'To burn wood, your stove must, like the 5kW Vogue Midi, meet Defra standards for particularly low emissions.'

5

BEST FOR... Colour

Charnwood, £1,125 (including stone stand, shown)

The 6.7kW C-Six woodburner is available in eight shades. 'Though Black and Almond are our most popular stove colours, there's a growing trend in shades such as Bronze,' says Ced Wells, Director, Charnwood. 'The soft, warmer tone works well in a country home. We also sell paint touch-up kits to repair any knocks or scratches.'

Country style need-to-know

• ADAPT YOUR STOVE TO SUIT YOUR STYLE

It's no longer a case of what you see is what you get. The latest stoves come with a choice of long or short legs, a plinth base, log store or can be wall-mounted. And for a contemporary look, an insert stove can be slotted into the chimney breast for a flush fit.

• KNOW YOUR METALS

Traditional stoves are often in solid, dependable cast iron, the ideal material for creating intricate designs, while lighter-weight steel bends easily to suit the curves of the more modern cylindrical designs. Often the two materials are combined in a stove that has a steel body and cast-iron doors.

• AVOID WET OR GREEN WOOD

Buy logs with a moisture content of 20% or less, or store fresh logs under cover for one to two years to dry (use a moisture meter). Driftwood is a bad idea as the high salt content can damage your stove and chimney.
