including processes for internationalization as China opened up legal harmonization of two distinct legal and socioeconomic orders juridification of local affairs with the establishment of a new local court system in preparation for handover to the Chinese regime and democratization or the lack thereof among the various communities comprising the Macanese polity before and since Focusing on Macau s unique development at the crux of European and Chinese empires and the role it plays as a mirror for Chinese intentions vis a vis Hong Kong today the book will be of interest to those working in constitutional law politics and history Encyclopaedia Britannica ,1929 The Johns Hopkins University Circular Johns Hopkins University,1919 Includes University catalogues President s report Financial report registers announcement material etc
