Enough Already! A Socialist Feminist Response to the Re-emergence of Right Wing Populism and Fascism in Media Faith Agostinone-Wilson, 2020-01-20 This text explores the re assertion of right wing populist and fascist ideologies as presented and distributed in the media In particular attacks on immigrants women minorities and LGBTQI people are increasing inspired by the election of politicians who openly support authoritarian discourse and scapegoating More troubling is how this discourse is inscribed into laws and policies Despite the urgency of the situation the Left has been unable to effectively respond to these events from liberals insisting on hands off free speech policies including covering both sides of the issue to socialists who utilize a tunnel vision focus on economic issues at the expense of women and minorities In order to effectively resist right wing movements of this magnitude a socialist Marxist feminist analysis is necessary for understanding how racism sexism and homophobia are conduits for capitalism not just identity issues Topics addressed in this text include an overview of dialectical materialist feminism and its relevance and a review of characteristics of authoritarian populism and fascism Additionally the insistence on a colorblind conceptualization of the working class is critiqued with its detrimental effects on moving resistance and activism forward This was a key weakness with the Bernie Sanders campaign which is discussed Online environments and their alt right discourse function are used as an example of the ineffectiveness of e libertarianism which has prioritized hands off administration allowing right wing discourse to overcome many online spaces Other topics include the emergence of the fetal personhood construct in response to abortion rights and the rejection of science and expertise

The Politics of Common Sense Deva R. Woodly, 2015 The way that movements communicate with the general public matters for their chances of lasting success Deva Woodly argues that the potential for movement led political change is significantly rooted in mainstream democratic discourse and specifically in the political acceptance of new issues by news media the general public and elected officials This is true to some extent for any group wishing to alter status quo distributions of rights and or resources but is especially important for grassroots challengers who do not already have a place of legitimated influence in the polity By examining the talk of two contemporary movements the living wage and marriage equality during the critical decade after their emergence between 1994 2004 Woodly shows that while the living wage movement experienced over 120 policy victories and the marriage equality movement suffered many policy defeats the overall impact that marriage equality had on changing American politics was much greater than that of the living wage because of its deliberate effort to change
