

(VI) He found strong support among the German middle class, who were threatened with destitution due to economic collapse that had shut down banks, businesses and factories.

(VII) Nazi propaganda, along with Hitler's powerful oratory skills, successfully portrayed Hitler as a saviour and Nazism as the means to deliver the German people from the distress of living in a time of acute economic and political crisis.

3. What are the peculiar features of Nazi thinking?

Solution:

The Nazi thinking was synonymous with Hitler's world view. The features of such thinking are as follows:

(I) There was no equality among the human race, only a racial hierarchy – with the blonde, blue-eyed, Noedic German Aryans being at the top and the Jews being placed at the bottom level. All the other coloured people were placed somewhere in between, depending on their external features.

(II) The other aspect of Nazi ideology was the concept of Lebensraum or living space. It was believed that new territories had to be acquired at the expense of the local population in order to enhance material resources and the power of the German nation.

(III) They believed in the survival of the fittest, which was a twisted version of Charles Darwin theory about natural selection. In their version, they believed that the strongest race would survive, while the weak would perish.

(IV) Nazi thinking put much emphasis on 'racial purity'. This meant that anyone born with physical and mental disabilities was considered 'undesirable' and impure. Allowing their existence would only pollute the German race and hence they had no right to exist. Along with Jews, Gypsies, Slavic and blacks were all considered subhuman and executed in large numbers under the shadow of World War II.

(V) Nazis believed in war and aggression. Any notion of peace or related ideologies were considered weak by their standards. They believed that world domination through war justified in proving the superiority of the German race.

4. Explain why Nazi propaganda was effective in creating a hatred for Jews.

Solution:

The Nazis were quite effective in using propaganda to great effect. They made propaganda films to fan hatred for Jews with the most infamous being The Eternal Jew. Orthodox Jews were stereotyped and marked. They were shown with flowing beards, wearing kaftans and were referred to as rats and vermin who fed off good Germans.

Jews were also blamed for Germany's defeat in World War I despite the fact that a large number of them served with distinction in the conflict. The propaganda by the Nazis effectively worked on the minds of the people, making use of the centuries of anti-Semitic feelings and tapping their emotions. This turned their hatred and anger at those who were blamed for all of Germany's past and present ills. And the Nazis would be the remedy for these 'ills'

5. Explain the role of women in Nazi society. Return to Chapter 1 on the French Revolution. Write a paragraph comparing and contrasting the role of women in the two periods.

Solution:

Women in Nazi society were relegated to housewives who were charged with upholding the honour of the German race by limiting contacts with 'undesirables' and raising as many pure-blooded children as possible. Those who conformed to this role were given favoured treatment in hospitals, concessions in shops, theatre tickets and railway fares. Despite

Constructing Genocide and Mass Violence Maureen S. Hiebert, 2017-03-16 This book addresses two closely related questions what is the process by which the relatively short and violent genocides of the twentieth century and beyond have occurred Why have these instances of mass violence been genocidal and not some other form of state violence repression or conflict Hiebert answers these questions by exploring the structures and processes that underpin the decision by political elites to commit genocide focusing on a sustained comparison of two cases the Nazi Final Solution and the Cambodian genocide The book clearly differentiates the structures and processes contained within a larger overall process that leads to genocidal violence Uncovering the mechanisms by which societies at least in the contemporary era come to experience genocide as a distinct form of destruction and not some other form of mass or political violence Hiebert is able to highlight a set of key process that lead to specifically genocidal violence Providing an insightful contribution to the burgeoning literature in this area this book will be of interest to students and scholars of genocide international relations and political violence

Final Solutions Sabby Sagall, 2013-10-09 What causes genocide Through an examination of four modern genocides the Native Americans the Armenians the Jews and the Rwandan Tutsis Sabby Sagall formulates a theoretical framework for understanding some of the darkest hours of humanity Drawing on the scholarship of a range of Marxist psychoanalysts from the Frankfurt School to Wilhelm Reich shows how genocides are enacted by social classes or communities that have experienced isolation and denial of human needs prostration and humiliation at the hands of major historical defeats or powerlessness These denials or degradations produce severe reactions hatred destructiveness and an impotent rage which is often projected onto a perceived other Through close analysis and theorising of the commonalities and differences between recent genocides Sagal hopes to produce greater understanding of the socio psychological rationale behind atrocities in order to prevent recurrences

Dilemmas in Modern Jewish Thought

Michael L. Morgan,1992-11-22 Michael Morgan has served up an intellectual treat These subtle and carefully reasoned essays explore the dilemmas of the post modern Jew who would take history seriously without losing the commanding presence Israel heard at Sinai It is a pleasure to be nourished by a fresh mind exploring the tension between reason and revelation history and faith Rabbi Samuel Karff This is without doubt one of the most significant works in modern Jewish thought and a must for a thoughtful student of contemporary Jewish philosophy Rabbie Sheldon Zimmerman This may well mark the next stage in the long history of Jewish self understanding Ethics rigorous history of modern Jewish thought Choice Is Judaism a timeless universal set of beliefs or rather is it historical and contingent in its relation to different times and places Morgan clarifies the tensions and dilemmas that characterize modern thinking about the nature of Judaism and clears the way for Jews to appreciate their historical situation yet locate enduring values and principles in a post Holocaust world
