Racial Narratives and the Development of Trumpism Arthur H. Garrison, 2024-11-25 History is storytelling History is the selection of facts placed in a specific order to result in a specific conclusion It is the choice of facts the prioritization of facts and the ignoring of facts that creates the narrative of history the narrative of the American story The American story is the creation of specific historical events and the meanings that have been applied to them Since America is defined by ideas and not ethnicity it matters what narratives of America that Americans accept support and defend White Narratives Matter The Whitewashing of the American Story and How Racial Narratives Explain the Development of Trumpism uses original speeches and writings of politicians and other social leaders from Thomas Jefferson to Tucker Carlson to explore how the White social conservative worldview narrative of American history developed over the past two centuries White Narratives Matter explores how this process of fact selection prioritization and development of White social conservative rhetoric of the American story has defined American politics and policies which culminated in the rise of Donald Trump and Trumpism within the American political landscape

Feeding the Other Rebecca T. De Souza, 2019-04-09 How food pantries stigmatize their clients through a discourse that emphasizes hard work self help and economic productivity rather than food justice and equity The United States has one of the highest rates of hunger and food insecurity in the industrialized world with poor households single parents and communities of color disproportionately affected Food pantries run by charitable and faith based organizations rather than legal entitlements have become a cornerstone of the government's efforts to end hunger In Feeding the Other Rebecca de Souza argues that food pantries stigmatize their clients through a discourse that emphasizes hard work self help and economic productivity rather than food justice and equity De Souza describes this framing blaming and shaming as neoliberal stigma that recasts the structural issue of hunger as a problem for the individual hungry person De Souza shows how neoliberal stigma plays out in practice through a comparative case analysis of two food pantries in Duluth Minnesota Doing so she documents the seldom acknowledged voices experiences and realities of people living with hunger She describes the failure of public institutions to protect citizens from poverty and hunger the white privilege of pantry volunteers caught between neoliberal narratives and social justice concerns the evangelical conviction that food assistance should be a hand up not a handout the culture of suspicion in food pantry spaces and the constraints on food choice It is only by rejecting the neoliberal narrative and giving voice to the hungry rather than the privileged de Souza argues that food pantries can become agents of food justice
