Marxism and the New Imperialism Alex Callinicos,1994

Social Construction and the Logic of Money J. Samuel

Barkin,2012-02-01 While other studies of international leadership have looked at a variety of measures to predict behavior this book demonstrates that the key factor is international finance J Samuel Barkin uses an innovative blend of rationalist and constructivist methodologies approaches to international political economy that normally exist in isolation from one another Barkin argues that the level of a country s involvement in international finance specifically motivates it to lead This is particularly relevant today given the on going discussions on how to respond to local and global financial crises Barkin illustrates his theory with an episodic history of international monetary leadership over the last four centuries Dutch leadership in the seventeenth century British leadership in the nineteenth the failure of leadership in the interwar era and Great Depression and the role of the U S in the construction of an international economic infrastructure since World War II

Future Positive Michael Edwards,2013-06-17 An optimistic assessment of the prospects for a new international order acting as a counter blast to global pessimism The text explains how the international system operates the pressures it faces and the changes it must undergo and offers concrete ideas to re frame international relations foreign aid and humanitarian intervention without using jargon or simplistic judgements Killing Hope William Blum,2003-07-31 Is the United States a force for democracy From China in the 1940s to Guatemala today William Blum presents a comprehensive study of American covert and overt interference by one means or another in the internal affairs of other countries Each chapter of the book covers a year in which the author takes one particular country case and tells the story and each case throws light on particular US tactics of intervention

United States and Britain in Diego Garcia P. Sand,2009-07-06 Diego Garcia is a pivotal US base for all Middle East operations This book describes its evolution from a secret US UK bilateral deal in 1966 and the deportation of the native population in the 70s to its new role in Guant namo style renditions and the impact of military construction on its environment

International Studies Notes ,1991 New Babylon New Nineveh Charles Von Onselen,2012-11-15 Available again in a single volume New Babylon New Nineveh explores the past struggles of everyday people on the Witwatersrand South Africa 1886 1914 This was a period of extraordinary social political and economic change Charles van Onselen examines a host of practices processes and problems which in many ways make for startling comparisons with modern day South Africa Van Onselen investigates the pervasive but highly problematic use of alcohol and prostitution which were used to control both black and white mine workers by the state and the mine owners This exploitation of the lifestyle of the single miners later gave way to the official encouragement of working class family life This gave rise to the advent of domestic servants and the introduction of a systematic programme of suburbanisation and cheap public transportation We see how not even these developments were able to protect the poorest and weakest South Africans of the time Van Onselen explains how Afrikaner unemployment and an affinity for trade unionism were paralleled by further marginalisation black unemployment and the resultant formation of prison gangs which flourish even to the present day An Outline of the Economic Development of the United States Edward Mead Earle, 1921 Determinations Neil Larsen, 2001 Determinations is both an uncompromising Marxian engagement with an erstwhile postcolonial theory and a set of new critical readings of a body of postcolonial narratives mainly Latin American. Its central propositions are twofold: first that the national question, however its terms have changed, is still under theorized and unresolved problem that haunts the hyper abstractions and mystifications of postcolonial theory and other ideological flights into globalization; second that the important insight into the close cultural link between nation and narration must be carried further so as to disclose their concretely historical fully determinate relationship. In essays that first engage the current theoretical parlances of ambivalence, hybridity and the subaltern and that go on to flesh out an alternative political narratology through readings of Cortázar, Carpentier, García Márquez, Rulfo and Vargas Llosa, Larsen concludes with a critical reassessment of Benedict Anderson's Imagined Communities. In place of the cultural essentializing of third worldisms and of the indeterminacies of Bhabhaite or Spivakian textualism, Determinations develops a dialectical, radically historicized account of the national and the colonial as literary and cultural mediations. International Banking 1870-1914 Rondo Cameron, V. I.

Bovykin, 1992-03-12 This book, the product of a unique international scholarly collaboration sponsored jointly by the American Council of Learned Societies and the Soviet Academy of Sciences, provides a comprehensive survey on international banking from 1870 to 1914. In that period, international investment reached dimensions previously unknown and the banking systems of the world achieved a degree of internationalization without precedent. The book's authors, twenty-five scholars from fifteen countries, are the acknowledged experts in their fields. They detail the origin and development of internationally oriented banks in each major country and explain their role in foreign investment and industrial finance. They look at all areas of the world that were involved in international investment, either as investors, recipients of investment, or both. The definitive work on international banking from 1870 to 1914, this book will interest scholars and students in financial and banking history, bankers and economists in the financial industry, and general historians. The Socialist Register Ralph Miliband, 2004

Islamic Identity and Development after the Ottomans Özyay Mehmet, 2023-03-31 Exploring themes of identity and development in the post-Ottoman Arab world, this book updates the author's earlier Islamic Identity and Development (Routledge, 1990) to analyse the root causes of chaos, civil war, and conflict in the Islamic Core today. Adopting a neo-Ottomanist framework and using the latest scholarship on the Middle East, the author traces the historical development of the current crisis to the First World War, when the West instigated invasions, coups, civil wars, and proxy wars. It is argued that Western powers have facilitated the dispossession of the Arab people in their overarching aim to gain control of the oil fields. A range of historical case studies are provided as evidence from the Balfour Declaration and the Sykes-Picot Agreement to the creation of Israel and the displacement of Islamic refugees. Individual nations are also analysed, including Iran, Saudi Arabia,

Iraq Syria Libya and Egypt Ultimately the author suggests that artificial countries and unsustainable frontiers are the root causes of the Islamic crisis However a realistic and long term solution may lie in the evolution of a new Silk Route Economy This book will appeal to graduate level students in political economy area studies international affairs and Middle East studies generally     Bullet the Earth and Its Peoples Volume Two, Third Edition with Handbook Bulliet,2005-11
