14.13 $K_c = \frac{[B]}{[A]}$

- (1) With $K_c = 10$, products are favored at equilibrium. Because the coefficients for both A and B are one, we expect the concentration of B to be 10 times that of A at equilibrium. Choice (a) is the best choice with 10 B molecules and 1 A molecule.
- (2) With $K_c = 0.10$, reactants are favored at equilibrium. Because the coefficients for both A and B are one, we expect the concentration of A to be 10 times that of B at equilibrium. Choice (d) is the best choice with 10 A molecules and 1 B molecule.

You can calculate K_c in each case without knowing the volume of the container because the mole ratio between A and B is the same. Volume will cancel from the K_c expression. Only moles of each component are needed to calculate K_c .

14.14 Note that we are comparing similar reactions at equilibrium – two reactants producing one product, all with coefficients of one in the balanced equation.

- (a) The reaction, $A + C \rightleftharpoons AC$ has the largest equilibrium constant. Of the three diagrams, there is the most product present at equilibrium.
- (b) The reaction, $A + D \rightleftharpoons AD$ has the smallest equilibrium constant. Of the three diagrams, there is the least amount of product present at equilibrium.

14.15 When the equation for a reversible reaction is written in the opposite direction, the equilibrium constant becomes the reciprocal of the original equilibrium constant.

$$K' = \frac{1}{K} = \frac{1}{4.17 \times 10^{-34}} = 2.40 \times 10^{33}$$

Laboratory Manual for Principles of General Chemistry J. A. Beran,Mark Lassiter,2022-08-16 Laboratory Manual for Principles of General Chemistry 11th Edition covers two semesters of a general chemistry laboratory program The material focuses on the lab experiences that reinforce the concepts that not all experimental conclusions are the same and depend on identifying an appropriate experimental procedure selecting the proper apparatus employing the proper techniques systematically analyzing and interpreting the data and minimizing inherent variables As a result of good data a scientific and analytical conclusion is made which may or may not be right but is certainly consistent with the data Experiments write textbooks textbooks don t write experiments A student s scientific literacy grows when experiences and observations associated with the scientific method are encountered Further experimentation provides additional cause effect observations leading to an even better understanding of the experiment The 11th edition s experiments are informative and challenging while offering a solid foundation for technique safety and experimental procedure The reporting and analysis of the data and the pre and post lab questions focus on the intuitiveness of the experiment The experiments may accompany any general chemistry textbook and are compiled at the beginning of each curricular unit An Additional Notes column is included in each experiment s Report Sheet to provide a space for recording observations and data during the experiment Continued emphasis on handling data is supported by the Data Analysis section Medical Books and Serials in Print ,1984
