$$S = k_B(P_A - P_{\text{total}}) = X_A(P_A) + X_B(P_B), \quad \Delta T = K_{\text{eb}}(m), \quad q = m(C_p)\Delta T.$$

1.) Which one of the following has a low density?

- A) gas B) liquid C) solid D) none of the above E) all of the above

2.) Place the following compounds in order of decreasing strength of intermolecular forces.

- I. $\text{CH}_3\text{CH}_2\text{CH}_2\text{CH}_2\text{CH}_2\text{CH}_3$ II. $(\text{CH}_3)_3\text{CCH}_3$ III. $(\text{CH}_3)_2\text{CCH}_2\text{CH}_3$
 A) III > II > I B) I > III > II C) I > II > III D) II > III > I E) III > I > II

The more surface area, the stronger the London dispersion forces. Chain-like structures will have much higher surface area compared to branch-like and cyclical structures of similar molar masses.

3.) Identify the compound with the highest dipole moment.

- A) CH_3OCH_3 B) $\text{CH}_3\text{CH}_2\text{CH}_3$ C) CH_3CHO D) $(\text{CH}_3\text{CH}_2)_2\text{O}$ E) CH_3CN

CH_3CN has a linear 3-D environment separating its polar and non-polar regions, giving it a large dipole moment. CH_3CHO has a trigonal planar 3-D environment separating its polar and non-polar regions, making it have a slightly lower net dipole moment. It is true that a C-O bond is more polar than a C-N bond, but the overall shape of the molecule plays a large role in determining the net dipole moment.

4.) Give the major force between ethanol (CH_3OH) and water.

- A) dipole-dipole
 B) dispersion
C) hydrogen bonding definition of hydrogen bonding is a X-H bond (X = O, N, F)
 D) ion-ion
 E) ion-dipole

Remember that for intermolecular forces hydrogen bonding > dipole-dipole > London/dispersion

5.) Give the major force between acetone ($\text{CH}_3\text{C}(\text{O})\text{CH}_3$) and chloroform (CHCl_3).

- A) dipole-dipole Both have a dipole
 B) dispersion
 C) hydrogen bonding
 D) ion-ion
 E) ion-dipole

Remember that for intermolecular forces hydrogen bonding > dipole-dipole > London/dispersion

6.) Define critical point.

- A) The temperature and pressure above which a supercritical fluid exists.
 B) The temperature and pressure where liquid, solid, and gas are equally stable and are in equilibrium.
 C) The temperature and pressure below which a supercritical fluid exists.

A Laboratory Manual of Analytical Methods of Protein Chemistry, Including Polypeptides: Determination of the size and shape of protein molecules Peter Alexander, Richard Joseph Block, Harold Palmer Lundgren, 1960 In the last fifteen years there has been a revolution in the techniques available for the analysis and isolation of proteins Every time a new technique has been introduced numerous papers have appeared describing modifications to it and the research worker who wishes to employ these methods is faced with a very serious problem in deciding which particular variant to use These volumes are intended to provide the fullest practical detail so that any scientist can follow the procedure by using this book alone and without having recourse to the original literature The techniques which are described in full are ones in which all the authors have had first hand experience and the descriptions contain those small but important points which save so much time In the first volume separation and isolation procedures are discussed the second concerns its analysis and reactivity and the third volume with the measurement of the macromolecular properties of proteins A Laboratory Manual of Analytical Methods of Protein Chemistry, 1961 Determination of the Size and Shape of Protein Molecules P. Alexander, R. J. Block, 2014-05-12 Analytical Methods of Protein Chemistry Volume 3 Determination of the Size and Shape of Protein Molecules provides information pertinent to the analysis and isolation of protein This book deals with the measurement of the macromolecular properties of proteins Organized into seven chapters this volume begins with an overview of the theory and practice of the electron microscope to allow an understanding of the type of object that may be examined This text then describes the methods of making protein molecules conform to such an ideal which are the techniques of specimen preparation Other chapters consider the determinations of osmotic pressures of proteins This book discusses as well the experimental basis for the theory of the diffusion process in liquids The final chapter deals with the technical problem characteristics of light scattering This book is a valuable resource for electron microscopists protein chemists biologists physicist physico chemists scientists and research workers SAM-TR., 1966 U.S. Government Research Reports, 1963-04 Prentice Hall
