The Library-Classroom Partnership Rosann Jweid, Margaret Rizzo, 1998-06-25 The purpose of The Library Classroom Partnership is to assist library teachers and classroom teachers to effectively use the library and its resources as an extension of the classroom As in the earlier edition the lessons included in this book stress the library media skills needed by individuals for lifelong learning Long after adults have forgotten a particular fact of history or the techniques of balancing an equation they continue to use library skills to answer their questions and to meet the demands of an ever changing society It has been well documented that the skills taught in a library are most effectively learned within the context of classroom work To this end the librarian and the teacher must form a working team to take each other's ideas and develop them into effective learning experiences for students The authors have incorporated the teaching of those library media skills with every discipline taught in the school Through these lessons students will realize that research and reference are a vital part of the learning process complementing and enriching every subject The eleven disciplines English mathematics social studies science art music home and careers technology physical education health and foreign language normally taught in the junior high and middle schools are addressed in this work To be included a lesson must be a learning experience in both the library skills and the subject areas Each unit has been cooperatively developed using the expertise of the school library media specialist and the subject teacher All lessons have been implemented successfully in the junior high and middle school environment This revised and expanded edition of The Library Classroom Partnership also deals with technology and the changing economic and social conditions affecting public schools It includes a new section on reading enrichment as well as instruction in accessing information electronically

Image Processing Using Pulse-Coupled Neural Networks Thomas Lindblad, Jason M. Kinser, 2005-11-28 This is the first book to explain and demonstrate the tremendous ability of Pulse Coupled Neural Networks PCNNs when applied to the field of image processing PCNNs and their derivatives are biologically inspired models that are powerful tools for extracting texture segments and edges from images As these attributes form the foundations of most image processing tasks the use of PCNNs facilitates traditional tasks such as recognition foveation and image fusion PCNN technology has also paved the way for new image processing techniques such as object isolation spiral image fusion image signatures and content based image searches This volume contains examples of several image processing applications as well as a review of hardware implementations
