DIFFUSION OF INNOVATIONS 3RD E REV Everett M. Rogers, 1983 Innovation in organisations Change agents

Diffusion of Innovations, 5th Edition Everett M. Rogers, 2003-08-16 Now in its fifth edition Diffusion of Innovations is a classic work on the spread of new ideas In this renowned book Everett M Rogers professor and chair of the Department of Communication Journalism at the University of New Mexico explains how new ideas spread via communication channels over time Such innovations are initially perceived as uncertain and even risky To overcome this uncertainty most people seek out others like themselves who have already adopted the new idea Thus the diffusion process consists of a few individuals who first adopt an innovation then spread the word among their circle of acquaintances a process which typically takes months or years But there are exceptions use of the Internet in the 1990s for example may have spread more rapidly than any other innovation in the history of humankind Furthermore the Internet is changing the very nature of diffusion by decreasing the importance of physical distance between people The fifth edition addresses the spread of the Internet and how it has transformed the way human beings communicate and adopt new ideas

Diffusion of Innovations, 4th Edition Everett M. Rogers, 2010-07-06 Since the first edition of this landmark book was published in 1962 Everett Rogers's name has become virtually synonymous with the study of diffusion of innovations according to Choice The second and third editions of Diffusion of Innovations became the standard textbook and reference on diffusion studies Now in the fourth edition Rogers presents the culmination of more than thirty years of research that will set a new standard for analysis and inquiry The fourth edition is 1 a revision of the theoretical framework and the research evidence supporting this model of diffusion and 2 a new intellectual venture in that new concepts and new theoretical viewpoints are introduced This edition differs from its predecessors in that it takes a much more critical stance in its review and synthesis of 5 000 diffusion publications During the past thirty years or so diffusion research has grown to be widely recognized applied and admired but it has also been subjected to both constructive and destructive criticism This criticism is due in large part to the stereotyped and limited ways in which many diffusion scholars have defined the scope and method of their field of study Rogers analyzes the limitations of previous diffusion studies showing for example that the convergence model by which participants create and share information to reach a mutual understanding more accurately describes diffusion in most cases than the linear model Rogers provides an entirely new set of case examples from the Balinese Water Temple to Nintendo videogames that beautifully illustrate his expansive research as well as a completely revised bibliography covering all relevant diffusion scholarship in the past decade Most important he discusses recent research and current topics including social marketing forecasting the rate of adoption technology transfer and more This all inclusive work will be essential reading for scholars and students in the fields of communications marketing geography economic development political science sociology and other related fields for generations to come

of mass media of innovations covers research cultural factors and traditional norms the adoption process decision making and discontinuance innovators computer simulation opinion leadership personal influence prediction social implications etc Bibliography pp 317 to 358 Challenging the Innovation Paradigm Karl Erik Sveiby, Pernilla Gripenberg, Beata Segercrantz, 2012 Innovation is almost always seen as a good thing Challenging the Innovation Paradigm is a critical analysis of the innovation frenzy and contemporary innovation research The one sided focus on desirable effects of innovation misses many opportunities to reduce the undesirable consequences Authors in this book show how systemic effects outside the innovating firms reduce the net benefits of innovation for individual employees customers as well as for society as a whole also the innovators own organizations This book analyzes the dominant discourses that construct and reconstruct the assumptions and one sidedness of contemporary innovation research generally known as the pro innovation bias by focusing on consequences of innovation distinguishing between intended and unintended as well as desirable and undesirable consequences Contributors illustrate how both the discourses of innovation and the consequences of innovation permeate all levels of society in policy discourse in academic discourse in research funding in national innovation systems in the financial sector in organizational and work contexts and in environmental pollution The volume offers a critical multidisciplinary and multinational perspective on the topic with authors from diverse academic fields examining and making comparisons between a variety of national contexts Transglobal Humanities: Meeting the Moment Mark K. Warford, 2025-03-25 As the world turns toward increased cultural and commercial integration it is not clear that humanities programs are sufficiently equipped to engage a global turn in higher education Furthermore though global engagement has emerged as a buzzword with cache across campus and community organizational missions the current humanities canon may likewise be ill equipped to meet the moment Accordingly the chapters contained in this volume which reflect a richly global diversity of authors themes and disciplines critically examine structures that determine the what and how of humanities dissemination worldwide including technological innovation as well as the dominance of English translated works in the curriculum and the global humanities market Additionally we examine blendings of the local and the global the particular and the universal the many faces of the cultural other and possibilities for un othering in humanities arts and letters curriculum and pedagogies
