
Chapter-2 Economics

People as Resource

- Human beings perform many activities which can be grouped into economic and non-economic.
Economic Activities: Economic activities refer to those activities of man which are undertaken for a monetary gain or to satisfy his/her wants. The activities of workers, farmers, shopkeepers, manufacturers, doctors, lawyers, taxi drivers, etc. fall under this category.
Non-Economic Activities: Non-economic activities are ones that are not undertaken for any monetary gain. These are also called unpaid activities, e.g., Puja-paath, housekeeping, helping the poor or disabled, etc.
 - Classification of Economic Activities. Various economic activities can be classified into three main sectors, that is primary sector, secondary sector and tertiary sector. The primary sector includes activities like agriculture, forestry, animal husbandry, fishing, poultry, farming and mining. In this sector, goods are produced by exploiting nature. In the secondary sector, manufacturing (small and large) and construction activities are included. The tertiary sector (also called service sector) provides various types of services like transport, education, banking, insurance, health, tourism, etc.
 - Market Activities and Non-Market Activities. Economic activities, i.e. production of goods and services can be classified into market activities and non-market activities. Market activities are performed for remuneration. Non-market activities are the activities carried out for self-consumption.
 - Activities of Women. Women generally look after domestic affairs like cooking of food, washing of clothes, cleaning of utensils, housekeeping and looking after children.
 - Human Capital: Human capital is the stock of skill and productive knowledge embodied in human beings. Population (human beings) become human capital when it is provided with better education, training and health care facilities.
 - People as a Resource: People as resource is a way of referring to a country's workforce in terms of their existing skills and abilities.
 - Human Capital Formation: When the existing human resource is further developed by spending on making the workforce more educated and healthy, it is called human capital formation.
 - Quality of Population: The quality of population depends upon the literacy rate, life expectancy and skills formation acquired by the people of the country.
 - Role of Education: Education is the most important component of human resource development.
In view of its contribution towards the growth of the society, government expenditure on education as a percentage of GDP rose from 0.64% in 1951-52 to 3.98% in 2002-03. However, our national goal is 6% of GDP.

Sheffrin, 2002 Covering both Micro and Macroeconomics in one concise paperback volume this book shows readers how to think and act like an economist by showing them how to use economic concepts in their everyday lives and careers Organized around the Five Key Principles of Economics The Principle of Opportunity Cost The Marginal Principle The Principle of Diminishing Returns The Spillover Principle and The Reality Principle For economists and those making financial decisions and analyses

Macroeconomics Arthur O'Sullivan, Steven M. Sheffrin, 2001 The most successful first edition of a principles of economics text in Prentice Hall history The authors build a framework for economic reasoning on the Five Principles of Economics then moves the student from memorization to understanding by applying these simple intuitive and memorable principles repeatedly throughout the text in an active learning environment Economic Experiments Economic Detective Using the Tools The goal is for student to not only think like economists but to act like economists The economics analysis is rigorous yet accessible to the average student The macroeconomics organization is modern and balanced with equal weight given to showing how they are linked WebCT Blackboard myPHILIP supported Reflections on the Global Food Crisis Derek Headey, Shenggen Fan, 2010 The dramatic surge in food prices from 2005 to 2008 seriously threatened the world's poor who struggle to buy food even under normal circumstances and led to protests and riots in the developing world The crisis eventually receded but such surges could recur unless steps are taken to prevent them Using up to date information the authors of Reflections on the Global Food Crisis identify the key causes of the food price surge its consequences for global poverty and the challenges involved in preventing another crisis Breaking from many earlier interpretations the authors conclude that the crisis was not primarily fostered by increased demand for meat products in rising economies such as China and India or by declines in agricultural yields or food stocks or by futures market speculation Instead they attribute the rising food prices to a combination of rising energy prices growing demand for biofuels the U S dollar depreciation and various trade shocks related to export restrictions panic purchases and unfavorable weather As part of their analysis the authors also provide the first comprehensive review of both the macroeconomic and microeconomic consequences of the crisis as well as a detailed comparison of the current crisis with the food price crisis of 1974 To prevent another crisis the authors conclude that the global food system should be reformed through several key steps make trade in agricultural commodities more free yet more secure address long term threats to agricultural productivity such as climate change and resource degradation scale up social protection in potentially food insecure countries and encourage agricultural production in at least some of the countries now heavily dependent on food imports Reflections on the Global Food Crisis will be a valuable resource for policymakers development specialists and others concerned with the world s poorest people
